REFUGEES
TELL OF 600
EXECUTIONS
IN BULGARIA

Revolt Far From Suppressed, They Declare, and Police Cannot Cope With Counterplots.

KING READY TO

Foreigners in Capital Ask That Consuls Give Them Protection—Correspondents Expelled.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch).

ROME, April 22.—Refugees from Sofia have arrived at Tarsus, a frontier town, said that President Tanfouk's tribunals within two days shot 600 members of the Bulgarian peasant party.

The refugees, however, deny the statements being given out officially in Sofia to the effect that the revolution is being suppressed. The interior of Bulgaria, they say, is seething with revolt, which is fostered by one of those popular legends of unknown source, to the effect that Stambouliski, a peasant leader, was killed nearly two years ago, is still alive.

According to the story, he is hiding on a solitary mountain, fed by a few faithful hussars.

Most of the Bulgarian troops are concentrated in Sofia, while the rest are stationed along the Yugoslav frontier to prevent refugees from crossing. The troops along the border also are charged with keeping out Bulgarians who have been refugees for the last few months and who, it is feared, will be made trouble.

Summary Tribunals at Work. Although summary tribunals in Bulgaria are working day and night, events have made it plain that the Bulgarian police are unable to cope with the counterplots still being made. The Sofia police know nothing of what is going on outside the capital. The manner in which they make arrests in Sofia is to invade houses, seize the inmates and throw them into prison until all the papers found in their homes have been examined.

This recourse to primitive police methods, and the lack of intelligent direction, keeps the city in a state of alarm lest further bomb attacks occur.

King Boris, although said to be personally courageous, is entirely under the influence of Tanfouk, whose heavy-handed methods crush many innocent as guilty. This has been the case since the king's accession to the throne. Bulgarians once more are complaining that King Boris is not of their own stock, but the son of foreign parents and incapable of ruling as they do. But even if he should abdicate it is thought no better day would be in prospect for Tanfouk's power already outweighs that of the king.

King Ready to Leave. Boris, with his sister, Evdokia, is prepared for orders to quit the country at any moment. Both are horrified at the spectacle of the wholesale assassination which has been daily occurrences for months.

The foreign consulates are being by members of the foreign press who are appealing for the release of the king. The consuls are said to be bringing seriously the possibility of sending away the king, women and children, as the government cannot guarantee the safety of anyone.

The king is at a standstill. His reports are closed and his public appearances are impossible. Even the newspaper correspondents who arrived after the cathedral outbreak have been sent across the border by Tanfouk's orders.

There is no use of your staying in Sofia, he informed them. "I'll let none of your stories reach the world," he said. "What's worth sending to the world is worth sending to the world."

The correspondents now are at the airport, where they find the king's only source of uncensored news.

Bulgarian Legation Denies Report of Assassination. PARIS, April 22.—The Bulgarian legation has issued an official statement of what is called "reports of supposed assassinations and executions."

TALES MAN TALKS
BACK TO THE JUDGE
AND IS SENT TO JAIL

Loses Argument on Jurisprudence and Gets 48 Hours in Holdover.

Charles Bergstrom, a shoemaker, of 3529 Louisiana avenue, lost an argument with the Court with Circuit Judge Mix today and was sentenced to 48 hours in the holdover for contempt of court.

A jury panel was being qualified to hear a damage suit directed against a manufacturing concern by a workman who had lost an eye in an accident. When Bergstrom was questioned as to his prejudice—or lack of it—in the case, he answered that no amount of money could replace an eye. Then he said one or two disparaging things about a concern that would not make an immediate financial settlement instead of taking it to court. Judge Mix explained to him that a juror is not supposed to deliver object lessons, especially in the presence of the other jurors, and requested him to step out of the box. Bergstrom informed him that he intended to leave anyway, whether the Court liked it or not. He was sentenced to 48 hours for this remark, and another jury panel was called in.

Engineer and Fireman Die When Train Runs Into Burned Out Bridge in Montana.

By the Associated Press.

MILES CITY, Mont., April 22.—Running at high speed, the Columbian, one of the crack Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger trains, ran into a burned-out bridge near Ingomar, this morning. The engine turned over and Alec Bugby, engineer, and Hans Stuve, fireman, both of Miles City, were killed, according to word received at the railroad's offices here.

It also is reported that a number of passengers were injured. The train travels between Seattle and Chicago. It was due to arrive in Miles City shortly after noon. Ingomar is about 90 miles west of here.

LOS ANGELES MAKES FLIGHT

Airship Arrived from Lakehurst at 2:10 A. M., but Waited for Daylight to Moor.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The airship Los Angeles moored to the tender Patoka in the harbor at Hamilton, Bermuda, at 7:16 o'clock this morning.

The Los Angeles arrived over Bermuda at 2:10 a. m. The Navy Department was informed in a radio message received direct from the ship.

Los Angeles, which made the flight from her hangar, Lakehurst, N. J., in a little over 12 hours, said she was waiting for daylight before attempting to attach herself to the mooring mast of the Patoka.

President's Father to Hospital. Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Col. John Coolidge, father of President Coolidge, will go to Boston for observation for an ailment believed to be kidney trouble, it was learned today. The President's father is 80 years old. Asked today if he was to undergo an operation, he said: "That's for me to decide, not the doctors." Col. Coolidge will go to the Massachusetts General Hospital. He has been working every day about his farm here.

Physician Points to City Hospital's Fiscal Report to April 1 as Warning Against "Moonshine."

"GRAIN ALCOHOL IS A DEADLY POISON"

Autopsy Surgeon Says It Produces Insanity and Causes Major Portion of Fatalities.

There were 22 deaths at city hospital from alcohol poisoning in the fiscal year ending April 1, due to over-indulgence in bootleg whisky or synthetic drinks of high alcoholic content.

Prior to prohibition there were seldom any deaths directly from alcohol poisoning, but there were occasional fatalities from chronic alcoholism—in cases where the habitual drunkard died. There was only one such case last year.

A coroner's autopsy physician sees in the report of so many violent deaths from alcohol poisoning a distinct warning against indulgence in moonshine whisky, synthetic gin and other drinks in which pure grain alcohol is found in high content.

He points out that pure grain alcohol, upon which some drinkers swear with pleasure as harmful only in that it is intoxicating, is a deadly poison when in concentrated form. It is so listed in works on toxicology, and to indulge in drinks where the alcoholic content is not scientifically controlled as to dilution and content, he says, is dangerous to life.

Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl of the Gradwohl Bacteriological and Chemical Laboratories, 3514 Lucas avenue, who is an autopsy physician and toxicologist to the coroner of St. Louis, today directed attention to the city hospital report. He said the alcohol poisoning from whisky and gin of the present order produces a psychosis or mental disorder which manifests itself by various delusional derangements.

Hundreds of Lives Saved.

In severe cases death results, unless the patient is promptly pumped out and given antidotes. Hundreds of lives are thus saved each year at the city hospital, where patients usually are brought in a state of utter collapse.

The danger from bootleg whisky, said Dr. Gradwohl, "is due to the fact that it contains ethyl alcohol in unknown and usually large quantities. My analyses have not shown any wood alcohol or other poisonous qualities, so much as large percentage of pure grain alcohol."

"In this undiluted form alcohol is distinctly poisonous. Ethyl alcohol is what is known as pure grain alcohol. Many people think pure grain alcohol is harmless because of its purity. This is a mistake. It is not a food and has always been listed in works on toxicology or poisoning as a poison. But like all poisons it becomes admissible in graduated doses: its danger is shown from the following excerpt, taken from 'Legal Medical Toxicology,' by Peterson, Haines and Webster, Vol. 11, page 612, Second Edition:

"Two forms of poisoning with alcohol are recognized—acute and chronic. Certain symptoms occurring in chronic alcoholism are known as delirium tremens. Acute poisoning with wood alcohol is frequently the result of a foolhardy attempt, within a certain short period, a large quantity of some distilled liquor. In this country, the beverage was usually whisky."

Number of Cases Increasing. "In rare cases alcohol has been used for the purpose of committing murder or suicide. Children are sometimes poisoned by it accidentally. Poisoning has occasionally resulted from inhaling vapors of alcohol. In these days in which so many different kinds of factitious or illicit alcoholic beverages are obtainable, a spite of the provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment, it is not surprising to find the number of cases of poisoning arising from the use of such drinks increasing to a great extent. However, the symptoms of poisoning of these cases is oftentimes quite different from that formerly noted. Reports from psychiatric hospitals indicate a different type of psychosis from that of delirium tremens, which latter is now rare."

GOES UP 75-FOLD
IN FIFTY YEARS

Proposal for Exchange of Shares to Be Made to Anheuser-Busch Stockholders.

NEW CAPITALIZATION
MAY BE $18,000,000

Original Missouri Charter of the Company, Issued in 1875, Will Expire Next July.

Two families in St. Louis, 50 years ago, formed a corporation. They called it E. Anheuser & Co. The charter then obtained expires on June 9. Now, after half a century and various changes of name, the descendants of these two families propose to incorporate again, as Anheuser-Busch, Inc., exchanging old stock of $500 par value for an equivalent in 100 shares of $37,500 par value.

This 75-fold increase in the face value of the stock will be in the form of a proposal to incorporate for $18,000,000, with the issuance of 180,000 shares of stock at $100 par value. The proposal is announced in a published legal notice of the stockholders' meeting.

Purposes Described. August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., today described the purposes of the reincorporation to a reporter for the Post-Dispatch, and related that the new capitalization of the company, of which his father, Adolphus Busch, was one of the founders, will be on a parity with the actual worth of its properties.

The original charter was issued July 6, 1875, thus expiring July 6, next. Under the Missouri laws the company may reincorporate under its old name, which will be done, Busch said. The original capital was $240,000, divided into 480 shares of $500 par value each.

The original holdings have been retained by the immediate Anheuser and Busch families, now in the second and third generations, and the increase in the value of the stock represents the re-investment of its large earnings in the business. Except for stated dividends all the earnings have been so returned, Busch pointed out.

List of Shareholders.

In the light of this expansion, the business long has been too heavy for its capitalization, which made desirable the change. In addition to the money of the Missouri law, a list of shareholders is given. The list is complete, showing present holdings and their par value under the proposed exchange, follows:

Adolphus Busch Estate, owns 267 1/2 shares, par value, $133,750; new stock, 106,312 1/2 shares, par value, $53,156,250.

Mrs. Lily Busch, Pasadena, Cal., owns 111 1/6 shares, par value, $55; new stock, 41,687 shares, par value, $20,843,750.

Peter Schweitzer Estate, Chicago, Ill., owns 23 shares, par value, $500; new stock, 825 shares, par value, $412,500.

August A. Busch, owns 3 5/6 shares, par value, $500; new stock, 1437 shares, par value, $718,750.

Mrs. Edmee Busch Reisinger, New York, owns two shares, par value, $500; new stock, 750 shares, par value, $37,500.

Mrs. Anna Busch Faust, one share, par value, $500; new stock, 375 shares, par value, $18,750.

Mrs. Clara Busch von Gontard, Berlin, Ger., owns two shares, par value, $500; new stock, 750 shares, par value, $37,500.

Mrs. Nellie Busch Loebe, Chicago, owns two shares, par value, $500; new stock, 750 shares, par value, $37,500.

Edward A. Faust, one share, par value, $500; new stock, 375 shares, par value, $18,750.

Mrs. Ida Anheuser Reims, owns 4 3/8 shares, par value, $500; new stock, 1725 shares, par value, $862,500.

WARRANTS WON'T BE ISSUED FOR HARMLESS GAMES

Assistant Circuit Attorney Says State Will Prosecute Only Games Operated for Big Gain.

ATTITUDE MADE KNOWN TO POLICE

Question Discussed at Conference After State Refuses to Issue Warrant Against Man.

The Circuit Attorney's office is interested only in the prosecution of gambling games which promise large returns to professional operators and will not issue warrants in harmless games of chance run for the amusement of those who attend carnivals or other similar affairs, Assistant Circuit Attorney Wilson announced today.

Wilson's declaration was made to Chief of Detectives Kaiser and Sgt. Mulcahy of the gambling squad, in a conference which followed Wilson's refusal to issue a warrant for a man arrested by Mulcahy's squad.

Mulcahy and his men had visited the Charles Oliver carnival at 4539 Gravois avenue and had played a game known as "automobile push." The prizes offered to the winners of each "push" were aluminum steppans, kewpie dolls and other articles. Chances were 10 cents. The players were allowed to shuttle back and forth between two rubber bands until it came to rest on a number on the board.

Warrant Refused. Oscar Mulcahy, of the Park Hotel, proprietor of the game, was arrested, but Wilson refused to issue, and Chief Kaiser's visit followed.

The Circuit Attorney's office is interested in the big fellows," Wilson said, "and not in the small ones. He said that he would issue a statement later to reporters. "We are anxious to co-operate with the police in stamping out games which offer a large return to the professional gambler, such as red and black, roulette or the various shell games."

But we are not interested in the small games, the harmless forms of gambling that give the winner a few pennies or a necktie and the loser a stick of gum. Such games do not offer large returns to the proprietors, and would have no attraction for the professional gambler. They are harmless forms of amusement."

Wilson would make no statement as to the policy of the Circuit Attorney's office in the case of the small games. "We have enough to do to decide definite cases," he said. "When a case involving a church lot or euchre party is brought to this office by the police we will be able to give a definite pronouncement as to our action, but I can give no general statement of policy."

Schweitzer Declines to Act. After Wilson had refused to issue the warrant against Marquand, Chief Kaiser listed the office of Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer, who also declined to issue a Marquand pending the outcome of the contempt case against Chief Kaiser and Chief of Police Clerk for alleged violation of an injunction in making the raid.

When he left Schweitzer's office Kaiser said to newspaper reporters: "If the prosecuting authorities fail to issue warrants in these cases there is little use of the police making arrests for such offenses."

He expressed the opinion that the game was a game of chance and that the arrest was made after receipt of an opinion from former Attorney-General Barrett, who advised the police, Kaiser declared, that "a game has only to incite the instinct of gambling to be a game of chance."

CRAFT GOES DOWN
AFTER 8-HOUR FIGHT

Caught in Gale, Her Cargo Shifted and Crew Called for Help—Messages in Broken English.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 22.—While two great liners stood by helpless as the stricken vessel capsized, 38 stout little men—officers and crew of the Japanese steamer Raifuku—sank to sailors' graves off the Halifax coast.

The 38 who died were Japanese. They left their homes last September on the little freighter, which sailed from Kobe. The Raifuku was bound out of Boston for Hamburg with a cargo of wheat. Between midnight and dawn yesterday she ran into a storm. Her cargo shifted and after a battle of almost eight hours she sank.

A half gale had swept from the northeast and the vessel listed at an angle of 30 degrees when she first sent her radio messages for assistance. Capt. H. Iseki, described as a man "who loved his crew more than his family," had called for assistance first at about 4:30 o'clock in the morning.

Messages Sent Out.

The messages began to come through the air with the dawn. But they were different from the usual formal SOS calls. It was as if the Japanese schoolboy had been abandoned in a desert.

"Now very danger," was the first radio message. "Come quick." It came over the Ocean to Halifax, N. S., and reached a half dozen steamers in the vicinity. The position of the Japanese freighter was given as about 575 miles from Sandy Hook, approximately 180 miles from Halifax. Nearest to the disaster was the Homeric of the White Star Line, commanded by Capt. John Roberts and bound for New York.

Capt. Roberts immediately turned his vessel and headed for the stricken steamer. The Tuscania of the Cunard line, which, like the Homeric, was about 70 miles away, also heard the call for help. These were the two liners that eight hours later, had the bitter experience of standing by while the Raifuku slowly turned over on her side and plunged to the bottom of the sea.

The first message did not describe the sinking of the Japanese steamer. Heavy weather kept Capt. Roberts on the bridge of the Homeric. At first all he said was that the Raifuku had gone down and that he had been unable to save any lives. Later, the Tuscania sent a wireless message which ended hopes that other vessels might have picked up survivors. All were lost, it said.

Description of Disaster.

Last night the White Star line received from Capt. Roberts a brief description of what had happened. The Homeric, said the captain, had approached the Raifuku while the vessel, in distress, was still afloat. Mountainous seas were running.

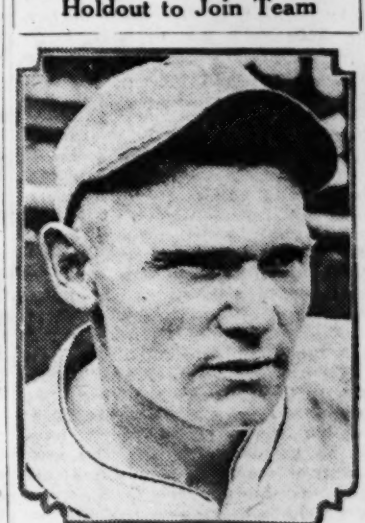

"We proceeded to the assistance of the Raifuku," stated the radio from Capt. Roberts, "and arrived as the ship was foundering. Regret I was unable to save life owing to heavy seas and mountainous waves. At 11 o'clock, Eastern standard time, we approached as near as possible in a terrific sea. No boats could be seen. The crew was leaving the Raifuku on the weather side. It was impossible for us to help the Raifuku."

"We poured oil to windward to give them a lee. She capsized at 11:18 o'clock, after which no life was seen in the wreckage or on the water. It was impossible for anyone to have survived."

Other vessels, meanwhile, had

Center Fielder Comes to Terms With President Johnson of American League

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—William "Baby Doll" Jacobson, center fielder of the St. Louis American League baseball team, who had refused to join his team because of a salary dispute, signed a contract with President Ben Johnson of the American League today. Jacobson will join the Browns at Cleveland at once.

President Johnson declined to reveal the terms of the contract, but said that the player had been "entirely satisfied," giving the impression that a compromise had been reached.

Jacobson had been holding out for a $2000 increase over his present salary of $6000 a year.

Jacobson, after setting new fielding records as a member of the Browns last year, declined to sign a contract this spring when he was offered $6000 a year, the same salary he received for each of four previous years. He said he wanted $10,000 for 1925.

According to Jacobson he was informed by the club officials that if he did not accept the $6000 contract he would be placed on the ineligible list. If he failed to report within 10 days after the season opened, he said he heard nothing from the club after March 9.

Jacobson has been a regular outfielder with the St. Louis club for six years and batted over 300 throughout that time. He is considered one of the best defensive outfielders in baseball.

PLEAS OF BRAVERY ON

Defendants Take Their Children to Court—Government Tells Each Man's Share as He Is Called.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, O., April 22.—Lieut. Aubrey Houston, commanding a relief squad at the Fourth District Police Station and brother of Barney Houston, chief of the Cincinnati Fire Department, was sentenced to serve 18 months in the Federal prison at Atlanta today on the charge of accepting money to protect bootleggers. He also was fined $2000.

Houston is the highest ranking officer of the 38 members of the police force and 21 village "dry" agents called to be sentenced, one by one, by Federal Judge Smith Hickenlooper today.

Government investigators declared Lieut. Houston had accepted $9000 in graft money. Houston, who had pleaded guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, said this figure was exaggerated. Judge Hickenlooper told him the amount made no difference. He scored Houston for setting a bad example to his men.

Louis Sunderman, a member of the flying squad of detectives, who also had pleaded guilty, was given the same sentence. It was charged that Sunderman's graft amounted to $17,000. He is a World War veteran.

Agent Gives Estimates.

T. C. Wilcox, of the Department of Justice, gave to the judge the estimates as to graft taken.

Detectives James Hays and Fred Bullerick, who were found guilty by a jury in United States District Court last week, received the same sentences last week.

Court attaches estimated that it would require all of today and probably a part of tomorrow for the arraignment and sentencing of the other defendants. The court gave the defendants until Monday to arrange their affairs.

As the defendants filed into the courtroom to receive their punishment, many bootleggers, handbooks men and others, who have "done time," were in the corridors. Reads of pergration appeared on many of the defendants' foreheads as they waited for Judge Hickenlooper to enter. Some looked around and smiled uneasily at wives, relatives and friends, who were beginning to occupy seats in the rear of the courtroom.

Their Babies in Court. Following the advice of lawyers, a number of the defendants' wives took babies along, in the form of hope that the cooling or crying would soften the Court. One of the attorneys for the policemen went over the newspaper table.

"It doesn't seem quite right to me, boys," he confided, "to send up these little fellows and let the big criminals go. There are plenty of grafters walking around the streets today who never will be caught."

After Wilcox had related to Judge Hickenlooper that if Sunderman had pleaded not guilty and had gone to trial 75 witnesses would have appeared against him and shown that he took $17,000 in graft, Attorney Sunderman, a brother of the accused man, stepped forward to defend him. Tears rolled down the attorney's cheeks as he related that the detective entered the Police Department in 1917 and up to now had a clear, clean record. He denied that his brother was guilty of so much grafting. He told of Sunderman serving in the United States navy in 1918 and risking his life at Pensacola to save a life. His mother is ill, he said, as a result of the sudden blow that has fallen upon an honorable family.

SENATOR WHEELER ON STAND DENIES MEETING HAYES

Never Heard of Attorney,
Star Witness for U. S.;
Until Daugherty Inquiry,
He Testifies.

EX-SECRETARY TELLS OF PERMIT MATTER

Haste Asserts, He and Not Defendant Took Up the Lincoln Grant With Interior Department.

By the Associated Press.
GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 22.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler took the witness stand in his own defense today in a trial here on charges of illegally appearing before the Department of the Interior for Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator.

"I never met George P. Hayes in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York," he said in a positive tone. "I never heard of him until he appeared before the Daugherty investigating committee. He was attorney for a bootlegger by the name of Gorin."

His statement was interrupted by an objection by the Government, which was sustained.

Hayes, who was the Government's star witness, testified he met Wheeler in Washington, in March, 1924, and that Wheeler had been in the Interior Department in his place.

"I was introduced to Mr. Hayes in Washington, in March, 1924, by A. B. Meisner," said Wheeler.

Tells of Stay in New York. Senator Walsh asked Wheeler to account for the time he spent in New York just before sailing for Europe. He said he arrived in New York late the night of March 15, 1923, and met Mr. Wheeler there early the next morning.

"I spent the entire day shopping with Mr. Wheeler," said the witness. "We had to have clothes because we were sailing the next day. We shopped until the stores closed for the day, which was 3:30 or after. We had to go to our hotel then and dress for dinner."

"We were invited to dinner at 7:30 with Mrs. Borde's family. Then we went to the opera with Mrs. Hartman, Col. E. M. Hume, and a Col. Stone of the United States Army. We returned to the hotel about 10 o'clock that night, made ready and boarded the ship."

Wheeler denied having spoken to Edwin S. Booth, former Solicitor of the Interior Department, just before he left Washington, about making arrangements by telephone for a private meeting with Hayes in New York.

Richard Haste, former secretary to Wheeler, testified he did not believe that a telegram, signed by Wheeler, and sent to Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator, March 14, 1923, was sent by his employer.

The telegram read: "Have already discussed permit with Solicitor (Edwin S. Booth of the Interior Department). The Senator is charged with appearing illegally before the department to prosecute Campbell's oil prospecting permits."

Haste said he took up the matter which had to do with a permit originally granted to L. E. Lincoln, with Booth himself on the same day. The Lincoln permit is one of those involved in the indictment under which Wheeler is being tried.

Denies Threatening Witnesses. Fred Munger, Lewistown, Mont., restaurant proprietor, testified that H. C. Glosser, former secretary to Campbell, told him in Lewistown last January that "Wheeler didn't have anything to do with 'permits' and that he was 'hired to protect Stevenson' in a rival operator in the Montana oil fields. Glosser previously denied on the stand that he had any such conversation with Munger."

Munger denied having threatened Glosser on learning that the latter was to testify before a Washington grand jury which recently indicted Wheeler, Booth and Campbell.

William Peely, a Washington attorney, testified that Campbell employed him to testify before the Department of the Interior. He said Wheeler was in no way connected with the permits, so far as he knew.

Court is expected to adjourn for two days while westbound trains bring four other witnesses to and from the defense.

Decision to call additional witnesses in an effort to break down the testimony of George P. Hayes, New York attorney, the Government's star witness, was announced yesterday by Senator Walsh, chief counsel for the defense.

Wheeler, charged with illegally appearing before the Department of the Interior in behalf of Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator, was said by Hayes to have attempted to employ him as a substitute, under promise that a large retainer fee would be the reward.

Walsh has called for the presence here of Henry Stern of Buffalo, N. Y., who appeared before the Department of Justice investigating committee; two character

"Six Bits or Bust," Master Barbers' Motto

Organization Stands Firm for Higher Scale for Haircuts—Committee to Meet Union Named.

The Master Barbers' Association, at its monthly meeting at the American Annex Hotel last night, decided it wants 75 cents for a haircut.

It decided the same question the same way last month. Members last night were determined not to decide it any more. They went so far as to authorize a joint meeting of executive boards with the barber union next Sunday to set a date to begin actually getting 75 cents for a haircut. Their motto, they implied, is, "No more barbering blues—six bits or bust."

Everything went smoothly last night, for while the Committee reported that 54 shops outside the association had signed petitions for the raise, most of the others favored the raise, were loath to commit themselves, but agreed to follow the action of the association.

A representative of a barbers' supply house urged them to put the raise over at once so the journeymen's percentage of earnings would amount to a living wage, and also so that they could buy supplies of high quality and pay for them.

Then Louis Tisch, vice chairman, got up to report on the downtown shops and for a while it looked as though the question might have to be decided again at the next monthly meeting. He completed his encouraging report that 22 large shops downtown had "signed up," and then reached for a sheet of paper, remarking, "But here's the nigger in the woodpile."

Letter Is Read. This was a letter from the first man Tisch had called upon. With it was a clipping from a Chicago witness from New York and a telephone call from an official from Washington. The names of the New York and Washington witnesses were not made known.

Booth Cannot Recall Appointment for Hayes, He Says. Legal counter-manuevers began as Wheeler's attorneys took up the defense of their client. Without asking for a directed verdict, Senator Walsh began the examination of witnesses when court convened.

The Government also had its inning when one witness testified that Edwin S. Booth, former Solicitor for the Interior Department, was in communication with Hayes in March, 1923, regarding the affairs of Campbell.

Hayes testified Monday that Booth called him from New York with reference to the Campbell permits and that Senator Wheeler had approached him in New York and asked that he appear before the department to prosecute Campbell's permits.

Identifies Telegrams to Hayes. On the witness stand yesterday Booth had no recollection of such a telephone conversation, but A. H. Furr, his former secretary, later admitted that he placed a call for Hayes in New York in March, 1923, at Booth's request.

Booth admitted that he sent a statement of the condition of Campbell's permits to Hayes on March 15, 1923.

"What have you to say regarding the appointment over the telephone with Mr. Hayes to meet Senator Wheeler in New York?" Senator Walsh asked.

"I have no recollection of it," the witness answered.

Booth identified telegrams between himself and Hayes which showed that Hayes had agreed to meet the Solicitor in Washington on a certain date in March, 1923.

He never attempted to get Hayes to appear before the Department of the Interior, Booth testified, explaining that a letter introduced by the Government related to the proposed financing of the Gordon Campbell Co.

The defense then introduced copies of five letters that passed between Booth and Hayes.

One, dated June 9, 1923, from Hayes to Booth said:

"I tried to see you several times in Washington, but your financial conditions arranged for Campbell, but understand he is dicker with some one else."

Campbell's Ex-"Lineman" Testifies. Another, written from Hayes to Booth, who was in Tulsa, Ok., read:

"I have been inquiring for you. I have about completed the matter of financing your friends in Montana, but they have wired me to wait."

A third, dated April 28, 1923, at New York, said:

"I was in Washington Thursday and found you had resigned from the Interior Department, then went to the Department of Justice and found you were out. We are making a little more progress with your friend, Gordon Campbell." It was signed with Hayes' name.

J. B. Fisher of Great Falls, a former employee of Campbell, testified that he was Campbell's "lineman" and that he watched maps and land holdings for the oil operator. He declared he had discussed land matters with Senator Wheeler, but never Government permits.

Druggist Robbed of $3500. By the Associated Press. ELGIN, Ill., April 22.—Three armed, unmasked men yesterday afternoon held up A. A. Andre, druggist, and escaped with $3500 in currency. Andre has just returned from a bank with the money to cash factory pay checks. It was the third time in the past year that Andre has been held up or his drug store broken into.

MILLER TO WAIT 30 DAYS BEFORE FILLING BIG JOBS

Issues Statement Saying
He First Wants to Acquaint Self With Details of Government.

Mayor Miller will make no important changes in any of the departments at the City Hall for at least 30 days, he announced in a prepared statement issued today, his first full day as Mayor.

His slate for appointments is not yet complete and his decision probably means that he will defer action until he finally decides on all of his major appointments.

The Mayor arrived at his office at 9 o'clock and went into conference shortly afterward, with William T. Findly, who has been secretary to the Mayor for five years. Findly then made public the Mayor's first statement.

"It is my present intention not to make any important changes in our departments for at least 30 days," the Mayor's statement began.

"My ideas concerning appointments and municipal affairs were set out fully in my platform. Until convinced that these ideas are wrong, they will be put into execution as rapidly as consistent with sound business judgment."

"Recommendations and suggestions signed by the persons making them will receive careful attention. In order that I may fulfill the expectations of those who elected me, I must first fully acquaint myself with the details of municipal government. The problems confronting the administration are too important to be decided without mature deliberation."

The first callers upon the new Mayor were Director of Public Safety Christopher and Supply Commissioner Oetting, each of whom is interested in reappointment. They were told that the Mayor would see them later.

The "open door" policy of the Kiel administration is not in effect temporarily at least. Kiel's long tenure of office gave employees in the Mayor's immediate suite a knowledge of who might enter his office without introduction and without previous permission.

Names are now taken in the outer office and presented to Miller's assistant secretary, who gives them to him. Each administration begins in this fashion.

Joseph J. Becker, chairman of the Republican City Committee, was another caller. He was received by Mayor Miller and the two conferred briefly.

After he had disposed of the early routine of the office, Mayor Miller sent for the members of the Board of Public Service and conferred with them. They are President Kinsey, Director of Public Utilities Hooke, Director of Public Safety Christopher and Director of Streets and Sewers Fisk. They are all Kiel appointees.

The Mayor announced he would be available to newspaper men at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. daily.

When Mayor Miller further considers appointments, he will receive notice from the Citizens League for Better Government, formed yesterday, which immediately endorsed its president Mrs. Louis J. Brooks, for appointment as Director of Public Welfare. No woman ever has held a post in the "cabinet," the Board of Public Service.

Mrs. Brooks managed the women's division of Miller's successful campaign. Her son, Robert B. Brooks, is slated for appointment as Director of Streets and Sewers, and Harry L. Salisbury, a close personal friend of the Mayor, is on the slate for appointment as Director of Public Welfare. Friends of Mayor Miller do not believe the slate will be altered.

The contest of Miller's election by William L. Igoe, Democrat, defeated on the face of official returns by 3129 votes, proceeding with both Democrats and Republicans gathering evidence in support of their respective positions.

Chairman Masters of the Democratic City Committee today suggested that the opening of the ballot boxes be agreed upon and pledged to support Republicans if their allegation of fraud is sustained. He said Democrats were not charging fraud, but if it were discovered, he would lend every influence which could be brought to bear to punish those guilty of it.

ter does not appear to be noted to any extent in these cases.

"In those cases resulting in death the exact situation is rather uncertain. While many, of course, die from the effects of added wood alcohol, yet others show no symptoms of such poisoning. It is possible that the tolerance of many individuals to the effect of ordinary grain alcohol has been lost to a certain extent and that these persons are simply overcome by the effects of the relatively large amount of alcohol which they imbibe when they have the opportunity. In other cases the greater concentration in which the alcohol may be taken (as in the use of some essences) may be a factor. On the other hand, many toxic factors including in some cases denaturing agents not formerly found in alcoholic beverages, now find their way into these illicit drinks and may be accountable for fatal results. However this may be, it is apparently certain that there are relatively many more cases of poisoning from these drinks than there were in the days before the adoption of the Volstead act."

been hurrying to the Japanese freighter. The Scythia of the Cunard line was about 180 miles away. The President Adams was not much nearer. At Halifax tugs put out in the hope that they might be of assistance. The King Alexander of the National Greek line was also steaming toward the scene.

"Please Quick Assist." The Homeric and the Tuscania were the only two to arrive. Capt. Roberts had requested Capt. Iseli to keep in touch with him and wireless messages, in pigeon English, continued to arrive. But each was more feeble than the last. Among them were: "Ship 30 degrees low. Please quick assist." "Ship meeting heavy weather. Held starboard." "28 degrees in danger."

H. Kohno, manager of the Kokusai Kaisha Kaibunkan Hahana, Ltd., owners and operators of the vessel, was one of the first to express the belief the steamer and crew had been lost. He said lifeboats could not be launched in the heavy seas. The crew probably never had a chance to launch their boats. The Raifuku, which sailed from Boston last Saturday, probably began to list soon after he had shifted.

With the storm that swept out from New England yesterday morning her situation became desperate. When the first radio messages went out she was already listing to starboard. Several hours to reach her side, and by then waves had been washing over the low decks and had smashed the boats. Just as the Homeric appeared over the horizon, apparently, and maneuvered into position in order to pour oil on the sea side, the steamer turned over. Some of her crew dropped into the sea and others clung to the wreckage. But by the time that the Homeric was close enough to see the survivors, they, too, had been washed to the sea.

One of Best Commanders. "A very strict and particular gentleman," said Kohno at the offices of the steamship company. "Capt. Iseli was one of our best commanders. He loved them more than he did his family."

Kohno said Capt. Iseli came from Kobe, where he has a wife and family. The Raifuku was in New York March 30, and Capt. Iseli was at his post in Kobe in 1918 and was one of 100 steamers operated by the line. She was a steel screw, coal-burning steamer. Ten of her crew were officers. She was valued at $800,000.

Wilcox declared that inquiry had shown that Houston had received $9000 in connection with liquor law violations alone. He also said that the defendant had been indicted on a narcotic charge.

Raymond Ratliff, Houston's attorney, then told of the defendant's struggles to attain a place in the world, saying that he had been left without parents at an early age, had worked his way through school and later, after graduation, had worked as a section hand on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

"You were a superior officer and your men were justified in looking upon you as an example," said the Judge to Houston. "When you entered into a conspiracy with them, they thought that they were justified."

"The court has taken into consideration that you have a family, but it would not feel that it was doing its duty if it did not impose a punishment upon you."

Houston protested that the $9000 alleged graft paid by Wilcox was incorrect.

"The amount is immaterial," the court remarked.

Patron Daniel Donovan of the Fourth District was sentenced to serve 14 months. Patrolman William Dubach, Fourth District, was sentenced to 15 months at Atlanta and fined $2000.

"Not Enemies of Society." When Patrolman Schaeble was called, Wilcox said: "Schaeble, a Fourth District man, dropped below the $5000 graft mark and entered the $4000 class."

His attorney made a plea for mercy, saying: "Modern thought has changed the idea that crime should be punished as a public example. These men are not such as society might be afraid of, such as murderers and the like. I do not think these men now can be called enemies of society."

Schaeble got 14 months in Atlanta.

RUNAWAY KANSAS CITY GIRL, 11, LANDS HERE

Bored, She Left Sunday School Class "for a Ride"—Found Asleep on Street Car.

Mary Hall was "just riding" when a policeman found her asleep on a Compton street car about 11 o'clock last night. When he asked her where she was going she didn't know, but she did know that her home was in Kansas City and that she had left there for a little pleasure trip last Sunday. So Mary was taken to the House of Detention.

Mary is 11. She looks older and wiser. A reporter introduced himself to her today and asked her why she left home.

"Well, Sunday school gets tiresome," was the answer. "I was sitting in the class last Sunday morning, and I'd forgotten to memorize the text, anyway, so I just walked out the door. A bus stopped and I got on it. It went to Excelsior Springs, about 40 miles from here, and I stayed there two days, drinking a lot of spring water and having a good time. I didn't have any money, but I just went to the hotel and registered. When I was ready to leave, I just stepped out—maybe the clerk didn't know I was leaving for good."

An Impersonator. "How did I get the money to come to St. Louis? Why, I'll tell you. There was a man standing on a patch of grass swinging with a club. He was all dressed up in fancy golf clothes. I went up to him and told him that there wasn't any ball at his feet."

"There he was—swinging away like that—and he didn't know that he didn't have a ball."

"He laughed and thanked me. Then I thought of something and I began to look sad. He asked me what was the matter, and I told him that I had lost $7. So he gave me $7 of his own money. That's how I came to St. Louis."

"Now if that photographer there is going to take my picture, shall I let him take it natural or shall I act like I do on amateur night? Like Cissy Hawkins. (Here she struck an attitude—her thumbs under her armpits, or like the preacher (her hands folded piously on her chest)."

Wired Parents. "I left home once before so I don't think my parents will be very worried. Last time they spanked me hard. I still have the marks. Oh, no, I haven't. The marks I have are from a different time. I sent them a telegram last night saying, 'O. K. Mary.'"

"Now you've asked me so many questions I'll ask you one. Why did the doctor stick me in the arm with that needle? Say, school's starting. I'll have to go. You be sure and send a paper over here so I can show it to the other girls. Better send two—I'll take one home."

Mary is the daughter of John W. Hall of 2314 East Twenty-eighth street, Kansas City. She freely admitted that she likes to travel.

POLICE GET PROOF THEY DIDN'T BEAT ALLEGED SLAYER

Negro Photographed and Examined by Physician
Following His Confession of Part in Murder.

ADMITS HE HELPED TO KILL WATCHMAN

Two Others Sought in Case of Aged Laundry Employee Shot as He Lay on Cot.

After Erskine Fisher, a negro, admitted a confession telling of his part in the murder of John J. Miller, aged watchman of the Home Laundry, 4300 Finney avenue, the night of March 28, police officers yesterday had Fisher examined by a physician, and had photographs made of the prisoner's body.

If Fisher later seeks to repudiate his confession, and makes the usual charge that the police beat him to get the confession, the physician will be ready to testify that the prisoner showed no marks of any ill treatment, and photographs will support the statement.

To Be Followed Hereafter.

The plan will be followed hereafter. Police Headquarters officials announced today, in the hope of making such evasions less frequent on the part of those who confess to crimes.

Fisher and two other negroes, who have not been arrested, were indicted by the grand jury yesterday for the murder of the watchman. It had been intended to keep the indictments secret until a search could be made for the other men.

Responsibility for making the matter public, last evening, was in dispute today between the Circuit Attorneys' office and police officials.

Miller, who was 75 years old, was shot in the head as he lay on a cot in the laundry, where he was a watchman and caretaker. He died 13 days later. His wounds appeared to have been inflicted with an automatic pistol.

Fisher arrested. Two negro special policemen, Woods and Carter, learned recently that Fisher was known to be carrying an automatic pistol. They began search for him, and found him in the laundry. Fisher said he was with the murder. Fisher said he was with the murder. Fisher said he was with the murder.

Fisher said in his confession that he and the two others at a friend's home on West Belle place, and that they got an automobile and a revolver and went to the laundry, which they entered by an open window.

The watchman, lying on his cot, moved and coughed, and one of the men fired three shots. Fisher says while Fisher fired one. The three did not carry out their intention to rob the place.

Stomach Severed Skillfully—Silk Stockings and Part of Coat Only Clue to Identity.

By a Staff Photographer. FRED GEHNER, 4330 De Soto, having been selected by Mayor Miller for appointment to the office of City Assessor. This office, with a city salary of $5000 a year and state fees which add nearly another $3000, is the most remunerative within the Mayor's gift.

Gehner was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff last August, but was defeated by Anton Schuler, now Sheriff. He was a supporter of Miller throughout the mayoralty campaign, and as a proxy member of the City Committee, from the First Ward, in the absence of State Senator Anderson at Jefferson City, he was one of the few committeemen backing Miller.

WOMAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH
WITH REVOLVER AT HER SIDE
Cecile E. Campbell, 6537 Crest Ave., Had Been Trying to Regain Her Health.

Cecile E. Campbell, 32 years old, 6537 Crest avenue, was found dead, a .32-caliber revolver at her side, and a bullet through her chest, in her room at the home of her stepfather, J. Argobright, 6537 Crest avenue, University City, at 6:20 p. m. yesterday. Despondency over ill health is believed to have caused her to take her life.

Mrs. Campbell had returned from Texas, where she spent a year trying to regain her health, only two weeks ago. Late yesterday afternoon she complained to her mother, Mrs. J. W. A. Argobright, with whom she made her home, that she was not feeling well and went to her room. Mrs. Argobright left the house to go to a nearby store, returned, and prepared dinner.

When called to bring the woman, Argobright went to her room but to the darkness did not see her on the floor, hidden from his view by a bed. After another search of the room she was found, the revolver by her side.

Police and a physician, Mrs. Emma Phelan, 5321 Bartlett avenue, were called. Dr. Phelan pronounced her dead.

Lines of prohibition enforcement in St. Louis are to be tightened immediately as a result of a conference yesterday afternoon between State Prohibition Director DeHart, Group Chief Goshorn and President Orrick of the Police Board.

Orrick acceded to the request of the Federal officers for co-operation on the part of the police force and a plan will be worked out to eliminate existing loopholes in enforcement.

Briefly, State Director DeHart's plan would permit detailing of Federal officers to the detection of stills and other sources of liquor supply, with the police force devoting its attention to eliminating the market for bootleggers by constant surveillance of saloons. The intention is also to turn more cases into the State courts for trial and in this way leave to the now congested Federal courts the task of dealing with major violations of the liquor laws.

The principal object is to strike deeply at the commercial phases of the illicit liquor traffic. When DeHart took office he told his subordinates they were not to wink at any violation of the law, but that the distiller of whisky and the bootlegger were more important captures than the individual with his entire private stock confined to a hip pocket.

In accordance with the utterances here of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney-General of the United States, in charge of liquor law enforcement, who departed for Washington last night after a two-day visit, she had said she "would like to see the police forces of the various cities, the county sheriffs and the constables all enforcing the law." Again she stated that it was regrettable that the Federal Court dockets were congested with liquor cases.

Wants Co-operation of Police. DeHart said that his interview with Orrick was pleasant and that he felt assured of receiving the co-operation from the force here that the Federal prohibition officers in Kansas City and St. Louis are appointed by the Governor and before their appointment DeHart conferred with Gov. Baker at Jefferson City on the subject of enforcing the liquor laws.

"What we are trying to do is make liquor sales the exception rather than the rule," DeHart said. "I don't believe that any soft drink parlor, so-called, would stay in business 15 days if it were not for surreptitious liquor sales. Constant vigilance will prevent such sales in the future."

The Federal force in Missouri ranges between 20 and 24 members, charged with inspection of 6000 to 7000 liquor permits, as well as the duties that fall upon them in the raiding of stills and arresting persons who sell liquor. Permits should be checked up every six months at least, DeHart said.

Orrick said he had promised the co-operation of the police force to DeHart, but that no specific plan had been agreed upon.

Jests of Actor, Blind and in Pain, Bring Laughs Daily

Ben Welch, Orpheum Comedian, Is Carried on and Off Stage and Cared for by His Partner, Frank Murphy.

Ben Welch is blind. He cannot walk. He is in constant pain. But he is an actor of the old school, whose guiding principle is "the show has got to go on."

And so Welch, in darkness and pain, is appearing at the Orpheum Theatre this week, as he has appeared in other theaters for the past four years since blindness and infirmity struck him. For two half hours each day he sits on the Orpheum stage and gales of laughter sweep over the audience as he "gets off his patter."

For the rest of the day he lives in seclusion, attended only by his team partner, Frank Murphy.

Probably everyone who hears Welch knows the story of his blindness. Knows how the comedian, stricken suddenly blind while he was before an audience, actually carried on to the final curtain without anyone in the audience learning of his plight.

But there are few who know that within the past three years a strange infirmity has seized the veteran comedian. He has virtually lost the power of locomotion, and his hands have lost their natural co-ordination of movement.

It is only when the curtain rises and he feels his audience before him and hears the stir of the musicians in the pit that he becomes the Ben Welch of old. Then his derby drops low over his ears, his head falls between his shoulders, his hands move in strange haphazard gestures, and his audience is laughing.

Not a laughter moved by a desire to give success to an afflicted man either, but genuine mirth provoked by a real comedian. It is only in the wings, where Welch's friends of the stage are standing, that there is a sense of tragedy as the veteran comedian makes an involuntary movement forced by a stabbing pain.

An Odd Combination. Welch is carried on the stage before the curtain rises and he is disclosed in traditional Hebrew comedian makeup, sitting on a bench with Murphy in the uniform of a policeman. The curtain falls with Welch still on the bench.

A strange combination—Murphy and Welch, Irish and Jew—and one affecting in its devotedness. Murphy, a typical old-stager with silvery locks and strangely gentle lips, went with Welch 25 years ago, when he was 40 years old.

Today he is Welch's eyes, his valet, and his "feeder" when they are on the stage. In their room in a quiet hotel, Murphy performs the thousand tasks that must be done for his helpless partner. He cheerfully, with a jest now and then which Welch quickly returns. Helping Welch from his chair or his bed, brushing his teeth, shaving him or doing any of a hundred other tasks of real love. Murphy keeps a watchful eye on his old friend. Even when he is beside Welch on the stage, "feeding" him for his patter, he keeps his eyes constantly, watchfully on his partner. When he makes his exit to leave Welch alone on the stage he stands in the wings with Welch always a few feet away.

When the act is over, and the audience is still clamoring for more, Welch, more often than not in heightened pain as a result of his work, is being carried to his dressing room by his old friend. There Murphy tenderly removes his makeup, administers restoratives if they are needed and prepares him for their trip back to the hotel.

Welch 53 Years Old. Welch is 53 years old, but his figure, despite his infirmity, is that of a young man. To all appearances his sight is unimpaired. When he talks he turns his eyes directly upon his auditor and talks "at" him as a normal man does. He speaks with a slight accent, caused probably by his constant delineation of Hebrew types. Murphy speaks with a slight brogue. Between them they manage to keep smiling even when Welch is in greatest pain. Yesterday in Welch's room, where a Post-Dispatch reporter visited him, Murphy, discussing his partner, said: "Has he an appetite? You ought to see him eat a steak for breakfast this morning."

And Welch, borrowing from another act on the bill with him this week, smilingly replied: "If it had been a bit bigger you could have milked it."

ISADORA DUNCAN TO WRITE HER MEMOIRS

Dancer Denies It Is Her Purpose to Reveal "Love Letters From Famous People."

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York World and Post-Dispatch.

NICE, April 22.—Lying on her bed in the smartest hotel in the Riviera, following an operation made necessary by a fly bite which poisoned her shoulder, Isadora Duncan informed the correspondent she was preparing to write her memoirs.

"I have been reported I am going to reveal my love letters from famous people, but that is not my purpose," she said. "I want to find the same expression of freedom in writing that I have known and tried to teach in dancing. I have wonderful letters from Gordon Craig on art and the theater, and others, lovelier, if possible, from Duse."

Outbursts of Artistic Views. "D'Annunzio wrote a whole series to me which were like poems. Then Ernst Haackel wrote me saying my art was a contribution to the evolution of mankind. Others are love letters if you like to call them so, but in reality outbursts of artistic expressions to which great artists have been moved and which they would never have disciplined themselves to write in book form."

"Why am I hounded and tortured? I want to write about my art and everybody insists on talking about my body. But this is only one of the shameful attacks on me, some of which are attributed to my Russian poet husband. Also dreadful articles have been appearing in Moscow newspapers alleging I have been speaking against the soviets and that my dancing school with its 500 pupils is ruined."

All this is written by young Soviet journalists in behalf of ballet dancers who are jealous of the competition of dance pupils. It is terrible to be attacked thus from Moscow, which to me is the cradle of a new order, just as was Bethlehem.

"To me Lenin is a second Christ. Had I lived 2000 years ago I should have gone to Bethlehem, as I went to Moscow, as the only place to practice the complete freedom which is the essence of my being. But, attacked on every side, I have taken a studio here where I will continue to teach."

Divorced for Desertion.

youth rhythm and freedom. But because of my political opinions I find scurrilous attacks in the press, and every reporter who comes to see me sits bored while I tell him about my art, and then asks questions about my private life.

"Not getting the answers they wish, they invent them. My memoirs will not, however, be the chronicle of a female Casanova, as so many seem to expect. There are other and better things to write about in life, though this crazed century thinks otherwise."

Woman's Sues for Commission. Suit for $635 as a commission for selling the Odeon Building, 1042 North Grand boulevard, was filed yesterday by Miss May Willis, a real estate agent, against James Wilson, the former owner.

Wilson, the former owner, petitioned states that on April 15, 1920, Wilson employed Miss Willis to find a purchaser for the property, and that as a result of her efforts, the building was sold to Henri Chouteau for a consideration of $250,000. The sale was made Sept. 22, 1922. It is alleged that Wilson has refused to pay Miss Willis for her services.

VAN RENSSAELER KING DIVORCED TWO YEARS

Philadelphia Got Decree on Ground He Could Not Stand "Social Pace."

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Society received a surprise today in the announcement of a divorce granted two years ago in Media, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, to Col. Van Renssaeler King. Mrs. King is a sister of Mrs. Lydie Hoyt. Col. and Mrs. King were married in France in 1918, and in May, 1921, Mrs. King announced in New York "an amicable separation."

King obtained the divorce on the ground of desertion. He told the Master, Harold L. Edwin, he was unable to stand the "social pace" set by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Jewett Robins King. The decree was signed by Judge Johnson April 19, 1923.

"I am 43 and my wife is 33," the statement to the Master reads. "She was younger and enjoyed a different kind of life. I do not want to go out socially at night because I was engaged in an engineering problem and the night social activities were more than I could stand. I could not get up mornings."

King stated they had disagreements over this problem and on Jan. 11, 1921, when they were living at 815 Park avenue, New York, the maid informed him his wife had left him.

The Kings are members of families long prominent. King is the son of the late David H. King, and served with the American army in France. His sisters are Mrs. Stanley Griswold, Flagg III of Green Gables, Villanova; Mrs. Charles De Rham Jr., and the Bormese De Villiers Du Terrage. He first married Miss Isabel D. Roundtree, who died.

Mrs. King is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius W. Robins and was first married to John W. Minturn. They were divorced and Minturn married Miss Cecile W. Gifford.

Escapes on Improvised Rope. By the Associated Press. CANON CITY, Colo., April 22.—George Marquette, serving a sentence of from 30 years to life imprisonment in the Colorado State penitentiary for robbery, last night escaped, going over the wall with an improvised rope made of bed clothing, and odd strands of cord and rope.

NEW MOBERLY MAYOR, STRICKEN IN AUTO, DIES

Dr. S. P. Towles Found Unconscious on County Road Soon After Taking Oath.

By the Associated Press. MOBERLY, Mo., April 22.—Dr. S. P. Towles, who last night took the oath of office as Mayor of Moberly, was found unconscious in his automobile on a country road this morning and died a few hours later in a local hospital.

Attending physicians could not announce definitely the cause of death. One ascribed it to apoplexy while others said it was congestion of the brain.

Dr. Towles, one of the busiest physicians in the city, had been under great nervous strain in taking over duties new to him. After taking the oath of office as Mayor and addressing the City Council, last night, he returned to his home, but answered a call from a patient at 3:30 o'clock this morning. He is believed to have been answering a second call, this time from a country home, when he was stricken. His car was on the side of the road and he was sitting with a cigar between his teeth.

Dr. Towles was 51 years old. His grandfather founded the town of Huntsville, the county seat.

BOXER INDEMNITY AGREEMENT
France to Rehabilitate Bank in China, With Payments. By the Associated Press. PEKIN, April 22.—France has agreed with China that unpaid installments on the Boxer indemnity—held up by the Oriental Government from December, 1922, to December, 1924—will be used for the rehabilitation of a China-France Bank, the Banque Industrielle de Chine, which failed in 1921. The bank failure involved Chinese banks causing serious losses. The accumulated funds amounts to $13,000,000 mex.

The French Government also agrees to advance the payments from China under the Boxer indemnity, from December, 1924, to 1947, as a loan to the Chinese Government. The method of advance will be based upon telegraphic transfer according to the 1901 protocol agreement.

Shepherd Case Assigned. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, April 22.—Chief Justice Hopkins of the Criminal Court today assigned the trial of William D. Shepherd, charged with the murder of his foster-son, William M. McClintock, by typhoid inoculation, to Judge Thomas Lynch for trial. The date of the trial will be set later. Judge Lynch sentenced Russell Scott, former Toronto convict, to be hanged upon conviction of the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk, in a supposed holdup. Scott recently received a 90-day reprieve from Gov. Small to enable him to appeal his case.

10,000 MILE TRIP STARTED TO TEST STAMINA OF HORSE

School Teacher Will Ride From Buenos Aires to New York.

By the Associated Press. BUENOS AIRES, April 22.—An attempt to make a 10,000 mile horseback ride from Buenos Aires to New York to test the endurance of the Criollo, or native Argentine horse, began today.

A. H. F. Sciffely, a school master and former football player, left here on the first stretch of a ride that will take him, if all goes well, across Bolivia, Peru and Ecuador, into Central America and through Mexico to San Francisco. He proposes then to ride across the United States.

Sciffely will use two horses which were bred on the ranch of Emilio Solanet, Vice Governor of the Province of Buenos Aires. He expects the journey to last ten months.

$2,500,000 SHALE PLANT DEAL
Los Angeles Capitalists Buy Patent Rights for Extraction of Oil. By the Associated Press. SANTA BARBARA, Cal., April 22.—A syndicate composed of Los Angeles capitalists closed a deal yesterday for the purchase of the Continental Shale Oil Products Co. operating a large plant near Santa Maria, this county. The price paid is $2,500,000.

The sale carries title to patents perfected by the late Dr. David T. Day for the extraction of oil from shale. The plant has been closed for several months pending the sale, but operations will be resumed soon, it is understood. Names of the purchasers are withheld.

Red Flag for Vladimir Lenin Land. By the Associated Press. MOSCOW, April 22.—"Vladimir Lenin Land" is the new name to be given to the large stretch of land on the eightieth parallel at 140 east longitude, discovered by the Russian Arctic explorer, Velikitsky, in 1913, and hitherto known as Nicholas II land. The Soviet government plans to send an expedition there to hoist the Red Flag and make surveys.

Delay in will-making is dangerous. See your lawyer today and have him draw your will. Send for our booklet, "Safeguarding Your Family's Future."

What will be said about your Estate?

A PROMINENT lawyer was talking. "Rushton left no will. His estate consisted largely of a flour business which had been built up through years of careful management. His wife, shortly after taking charge of his affairs, sold the business to a rival concern. She was inexperienced in business matters and accepted much less for her interest than what it was worth."

"She invested her money in mining stock which was paying large dividends. Within a year the mining project failed and the stock became worthless. If Rushton had made a will making proper disposition of his estate, his wife would not be going to business today, in order to support herself and two children."

In your own case, you plan to relieve your wife of business and estate matters. You realize that it is unfair to expect her to shoulder these duties. But, unless you have made a will containing wise trust provisions, you have not protected and safeguarded her future. Think! What might happen to your family if you do not leave a will?

ACCUSED POLICE CAPTAIN ENDS LIFE

Had Been Suspended From New Orleans Force for Alleged Part in "Frame-Up."

By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—Police Captain Charles Hemard, central figure in a "frame-up" row which has shaken the New Orleans Police Department and which resulted in the suspension of Capt. Hemard, Chief of Detectives Healy and five other officers, committed suicide here last night by shooting.

Capt. Hemard, Chief Healy and five other officers were suspended by Police Superintendent Moloney, following a series of charges and counter-charges in connection with the arrest of Raymond Holland, ex-convict, caught several weeks ago holding up a druggist.

An automobile said to have been used to convey Holland to the scene of the holdup was traced to the ownership of a policeman, Albert Davidson.

At Holland's trial the defense charged that Patrolman Davidson had suggested the crime, furnished his private automobile, and a revolver.

Holland was acquitted after Chief Healy appeared as a surprise witness for the defense and testified that Patrolman Davidson had admitted to him that he loaned his automobile to Capt. Hemard the night of the crime, indicating that Capt. Hemard had engineered the robbery, furnished Davidson's car and a gun to Holland, and then "double-crossed" Holland in order to make a spectacular arrest.

Capt. Hemard and a squad of officers arrested Holland. Patrolman Davidson, denied making the admissions testified to by Chief Healy. He likewise denied Holland's testimony but subsequently swore to an affidavit that he had testified falsely and substantiated Chief Healy's testimony.

The other officers involved in the suspensions and who, with Hemard, Healy and Davidson, were ordered to appear at a trial before Superintendent Moloney, Friday, were suspended for alleged failure to report knowledge of the affair to the superintendent.

After a grand jury inquiry into the case and publication of Patrolman Davidson's affidavit, Superintendent Moloney ordered all officers concerned suspended pending police trial.

POLICE AID FAMILY OF FIVE LOCKED OUT OF THEIR ROOMS

Sergeant Finds Quarters for Woman and Children and Further Assistance Is Planned. Mrs. Ethel Welborn and her four young children, locked out of the rooms they had occupied at 1392 South Fourteenth street because they owed three weeks' rent, were cared for last night by Sgt. McGauley, who found them and obtained quarters at 2042 Park avenue. McGauley provided money for their immediate necessities and the police today will attempt further to relieve their distress.

Mrs. Welborn said her husband had gone to Desloge, Mo., to borrow money with which to pay the rent and buy food until he could find work. He had been expected back yesterday, but failed to arrive. Mrs. Welborn also was distressed because of an injury to the youngest of her children, Ida, 9 months old, who is suffering from burns on the feet suffered early yesterday when she came in contact with a hot iron her mother was using.

The other children are 11, 9 and 5 years old.

Will the Rich, Red Blood Rush Back?

PRESS the flesh firmly between hand and thumb. Now watch—how long does it take the blood to come back? Unless it is practically instantaneous in its return, Anemia—blood starvation—is indicated. You cannot have energy and vitality unless your blood contains the iron and manganese content that Gude's Pepto-Mangan alone can supply. For thirty-two years thousands of physicians have seen thousands of patients regain health and strength by the daily use of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. The blood assimilates its energizing properties and restores the latent power to every cell of the body.

Your druggist now has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form.

PACIFIC RAILROAD. The signs of the times are auspicious for this great enterprise. The recent spirited movement in this city in reference to it has had a fine effect on the public mind, and, in the language of the Railroad Journal, there is no difficulty in settling upon St. Louis as the middle of the national road.

Our City therefore may go forward in the expectation of great results. A great future before her. We are happy to learn that the president and Board of Directors of the Pacific Railroad will commence work as soon as a corps of engineers can be efficiently organized.

In the meantime, we understand that the Board of Directors have authorized the stock books to be opened again, and a committee appointed to receive additional subscriptions. We hope that our citizens who have not enrolled their names upon the stock books will now step forward and place themselves on the rolls of the liberal and enterprising benefactors of the State.

BACK IN THE DAYS

of Beaver Hats and Hoopskirts

*T*HE FASHION MART of those days was a modest establishment near the corner of Fourth and St. Charles Streets. There gathered St. Louis' belles and dandies to buy beaver hats, calico prints and other fancies of the "fifties" . . . And from distant open spaces lone steeds and covered wagons brought other buyers to satisfy their pioneer needs.

It was in those far-away years that faithful service and honest effort became part and parcel of the Vandervoort creed . . . and a community's faith in a merchant's wares was won . . . Seventy-five years have passed; and during that memorable span city and store have kept pace with the times—together.

These two friends of early days are linked by the bond of years. A small store's principles have become a great store's maxims; the faith of a hamlet has become the trust of a metropolis. To commemorate this long-lived fellowship, we are now celebrating our Diamond Jubilee, an unusual carnival of buying opportunities.

PLOT FOR GAS ATTACK ON BANK REVEALED

Dynamite, Ammonia Gas and Bombs Seized in Chicago Rooming House

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 22.—Seizure of a small arsenal of weapons, dynamite, ammonia gas and smoke bombs in the cellar of a rooming house occupied by Henry J. Fernekes, alleged robber arrested Saturday, has revealed an extensive plan for a daylight robbery of one of Chicago's largest downtown banks, according to William Schoemaker, detective chief.

Mrs. Anna H. Beaucamp, who operated the house, was held for questioning. Although she protested her innocence, detectives who snatched her telephone and rented rooms in a downtown library where he was consulting books on the manufacture of bombs.

Details of the alleged plot put together by five operatives who worked on the case for months, were summarized by Capt. Schumaker. Ten men, he said, were included in the plot and had been drilled in their parts by Fernekes who is under indictment for two killings in a Rockland County, New York bank robbery.

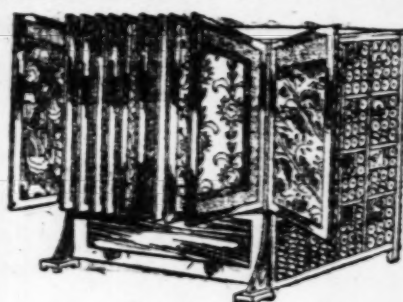

URGES GRAIN PRICE INQUIRY

By the Associated Press.
SALEM, Ore., April 22.—Gov. Walter M. Pierce, in a telegram to President Coolidge, declares that millions of dollars have been taken from innocent citizens by unscrupulous speculators and demands on behalf of the people of Oregon, an investigation into the methods of the Chicago Board of Trade in the manipulation of grain prices.

"Oregon demands immediate and thorough investigation of Chicago Board of Trade methods in recent manipulations of grain prices," said the telegram. "Unquestionably the market has been controlled and millions taken from innocent citizens by unprincipled speculators. During the last war our Government prevented such speculation. Why not prevent it now?"

TREAT WAR LIKE MAD DOG, MISS RANKIN SAYS

Former Congresswoman Advocates Law That Will Curb Conflicts Among Nations.

Law against war, as incompatible with Western civilization, was advocated at a luncheon "to the ladies" at the City Club yesterday by Miss Jeanette Rankin, who voted against the declaration of war against Germany as a member of Congress from Montana. Miss Rankin also spoke at Harris Teachers' College, Bellevue Club, and the University Club.

"We have long enough made laws about war which are broken when war comes," Miss Rankin said. "No one would be so optimistic as to say we could go through another World War and save our civilization."

A greater advance even than the World Court and the League of Nations, she estimated, was the declaration in the Geneva protocol that war is a crime. "We decided that killing our neighbor was a crime long before the desire to kill was gone," she remarked. "Dueling was made illegal long before every affair of honor was settled."

Moral Law Applies to Nations. "We know that when a moral law is stated correctly that it is just as immutable as a law of chemistry or physics. We have realized that he who attempts to break a moral law breaks only himself. But we have not realized that the moral law applies just as immutably to groups, even when the groups are as large as nations. It is criminal for the individual to steal or kill, but it is perfectly right for a nation to do all those things. It has been said that truth is the first casualty in war. It is not the last."

"It should be a simple thing to write down the fundamental principles of the interest of one nation with another, codify those principles upon the basis that war is a crime and give courts the power to act upon them. But they will have to be evolved from the bottom up. All of us must be heard from. Everyone must make his contribution to the public opinion which shall abolish war."

"Many of us, I fear, still think in terms of war. It is our duty to find out if we think we have a service to perform, and, if so, whether it is worth the price."

"Some of us think that because we have always had it we always must have it—that it's human nature." "Cannibalism once was perfectly legal. Public opinion finally decided that it wasn't so nice to eat one's captives, and so we made slaves of them. But the fact that slavery was a good thing once doesn't mean that it still is."

Change Only in the Methods.

"When my father went to Montana the man who was fast on the trigger won the argument. Within his lifetime a law was passed against concealed weapons. There was no change in human nature. The change was in the methods of settling an individual dispute."

"Fifteen years ago all the newspapers was that women wanted to vote. College women couldn't discuss it on the campus, but they voted in 1920. Men gave up half their power to women without the loss of a single life."

"The worst thing we have to contend with is the feeling of insecurity, which has no relation to actual insecurity. War is a mad dog. But it is regarded as one. It is the human, legal, honorable, patriotic way to settle international disputes. A mad dog is a crime; it's disreputable; all the forces of society gather to put it down, and they put it down so effectively that I've never seen one."

Call In an Arbitrator. "If only we would treat war the same way, it might be as scarce as mad dogs. Surely the reasonable thing would be, upon its appearance at our national door, to call in the arbitrator and let him see if it's a mad dog or just a puppy chasing his tail, or if the person who called was just a little bit mad."

In answer to a question following her address, Miss Rankin said that 65 cents of the Government dollar was paid for past wars, 20 cents for future wars, and 15 cents for carrying out that part of the Constitution which says that the purpose of Government is the promotion of the general welfare."

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Mustard Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present, white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief when sore throat, bronchitis, laryngitis, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbar, pains and aches of the neck or joints, sprains, sore muscles, cramps, chilblains, treated feet, colds of the chest it may prevent pneumonia.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

GETS 25 YEARS FOR STICKNEY ROBBERY

Second of 2 Negroes in Holdup of Woman on Road Is Convicted in 15 Minutes.

Fifteen minutes after his fate was placed in the hands of a jury in Judge McElhinney's court at Clayton yesterday, Homer Brown, a negro, was sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary for robbing
Mrs. W. Arthur Stickney of $17,000 in jewelry near the St. Louis Country Club grounds last November.
The verdict was robbery in the first degree and it followed four months after the conviction of Brown's accomplice, Alonzo Dowell, another negro, who is now serving a term of 35 years for participation in the holdup.

As a result of the arrests and convictions, Detective Sergeant Ira
Cooper, negro member of the St.
Louis Police Department, is eligible for the $1000 offered by Mrs.
Stickney and the $2000 offered by members of the St. Louis Country Club and he is laying claim to it.
His work in apprehending the robbers three weeks after the holdup was highly praised by officials of the department.

The arrests were the result of Cooper's "hunch" that Dowell might be involved because of his previous robbery activities in St.
Louis County. Decision as to the reward has not been made but it is believed that Cooper will receive it.

The jewels taken in the robbery included a $10,000 diamond ring, a pearl necklace valued at $1000,
a sapphire and diamond ring, $1000, and a diamond bracelet, $5000.
They have not been recovered.

Mrs. Stickney's testimony yesterday was virtually the same as that given in the trial of Dowell. She told how the negroes had blocked her path with a Ford, forced her to drive out the Ladue road to a point near Warsaw road, where they jerked away her jewels, and then ordered her to drive on, threatening to kill her if she looked back.
She identified Brown as the "black negro" in the case, referring to Dowell as the "yellow negro."
Detective Cooper also was an important witness. Brown did not take the stand and no other defense witnesses were produced.

MAN CALLS MOTHER AND DIES
Glass That Had Contained Poison
In Room of Howard Dudley, 33,
Howard Dudley, 33 years old, called his mother, Mrs. Bertha
Zartt, to his bedroom at their home, 1411A Seventh boulevard, at 9 p.
m. yesterday and asked her to call an ambulance. Then he layed into unconsciousness. When a doctor was summoned to the home Dud-ing was dead. An empty glass that had contained poison was in the room. The mother told policemen her son had been in ill health and unable to work.

MORNING CHORAL CLUB ENDS 34TH SEASON

Classic Costuming and Improved Scenic Effects Enhance Song Program

The Morning Choral Club brought to a close its thirty-fourth consecutive season at the Odeon last night with a program of songs, enhanced by classic costuming and improved scenic and lighting effects.

Besides the performance of the chorus of women, under the direction of Charles Galloway, the solo work of Alice Gentle, dramatic soprano; Lavina Gauen, contralto; Mrs. C. N. Hurst and Mrs. O. J. Fickelissen added distinction to the occasion.

Gaines' "Salutation." The program began with Samuel G. Gaines' "Salutation," which relates the story of how music was brought from the skies by the angels, and this was followed with "Love's Spring Song," by Massenet, and Clarence Dickinson's "The Sleeping Flowers." Especially well received was "Silently Swinging on the Water's Quiet Breast," sung with an invisible choir of 12 voices. F. E. Weatherly's "The Fairy Flippers," in which the ensemble was assisted by Mrs. Fickelissen, ended the choral part of the program.

Miss Gentle's group of songs covered a wide range, including several arias from well known operas and a number of lyrics and folk tunes. Operatic standards were upheld in "More Regal in His Low Estate" from Gounod's "The Queen of Sheba," the Habanera from "Carmen" and the Vissi d'Arte aria from Puccini's "La Tosca," while the lighter flavor was sustained in such works as Moussorgsky's "Doll's Cradle Song" and "Hopak," "The Silent Hour" and a Chinese Love Song. Also outstanding were Easthope Martin's "Come to the Fair," sung by way of encore, Richard Hageman's "Do Not Go to My Love," Oley Speaks' "Morning," and several folk ballads.

SUCCESSFUL OIL BID

County Court Rejected Offer $3000 Under That Which Was Accepted.

Although the St. Louis County Court might have saved the county $2000 on 1,000,000 gallons of road oil, it virtually shut out six bidders and awarded the contract to the Cabell Petroleum Co. for $32,500 Monday because two Republican politicians interceded in behalf of the Cabell concern, urging the point that it was a local firm.

This was told yesterday by County Judge George Bobring, a member of the administrative body which made the award after another bidding concern, the Carter Water Co. of Kansas City, had offered to supply the amount for $30,500. The bid of the Kansas City concern was 5.99 cents a gallon and that accepted was 5.38 cents a gallon.

Bobring's Explanation.

When asked yesterday why advantage was not taken of the low bid, Judge Bobring said the bid was awarded to the Cabell concern because it was a home company and because such action was recommended by Albert Autenreith, chairman of the County Republican Central Committee, and William Siebel, former county treasurer, both members of the Eisen faction. Besides Judge Bobring, members of the body who made the award were Judges Smiley and Freiss.

On April 19, he said, they had robbed the drug store of Leslie Barnes, 2133 Market street, taking perfume and drugs valued at about $150. His companion sold the articles cheaply and gave him a few dollars, Dudley said. An oil filling station near Twenty-second and Locust yielded $6, he said. The other places robbed were small confectionery stores and a novelty shop where small amounts of cash were taken.

NEGRO YOUTH ADMITS HE AND COMPANION ROBBED 7 STORES

Edward Dudley, 14 years old, a negro, "picked up" by Central District police near Fourteenth and Market street last night because he could not give a good account of himself, later confessed that he and a companion had robbed seven stores about the city since April 1. The police are seeking the negro companion he named.

On April 19, he said, they had robbed the drug store of Leslie Barnes, 2133 Market street, taking perfume and drugs valued at about $150. His companion sold the articles cheaply and gave him a few dollars, Dudley said. An oil filling station near Twenty-second and Locust yielded $6, he said. Karolyi's Suppression
Appealed to French
Break Up the T.Tells of Conversations With laux and Clemenceau and Predicted World

THE Post-Dispatch prints today the eighth of a series of articles written by Count Karolyi of Hungary, telling the story he could not reveal in speeches in this country because of a pledge made to him by the State Department in Washington before the Hungarian exile was permitted to land in the United States. The public is already familiar with this "gagging" of Karolyi. Now that he has left the country, he has written for the Post-Dispatch the things he wanted to say to the American people.

By COUNT MICHAEL KAROLYI, MONTREAL, QUE., April 22. BEFORE the war, I was a friend of three great Frenchmen, Clemenceau, Poincaré and Caillaux, to help break the Triple Alliance by separating Austria-Hungary from it. If that could have been done the war might have been prevented.

In Canada, as I discovered before sailing, one feels what the human and economic loss of the war has meant—feels it much more keenly than in the United States. I am reminded again of my efforts to block wars—one of the crimes with which I am charged.

In November, 1913, I traveled to Paris to make the first efforts toward a rapprochement between France and Austria-Hungary. During these first tentative approaches I had the support of my relative, Marquis Melchior Poincaré. His uncle, Count Poincaré, loved the Hungarian people and was fairly well acquainted with things Hungarian. In renewing old acquaintances, and in forming new ones in press and financial circles, I was constantly on the watch for anyone whose sympathy and influence it would be valuable to engage for the idea of a Franco-Hungarian rapprochement.

I wrote to M. Poincaré, who was then Prime Minister, and asked him to receive me and give me an opportunity to discuss Hungarian politics with him, with special reference to foreign affairs, as I had communications to make of importance to France and Hungary. All the Prime Minister knew of me was that I was one of the Opposition leaders in Hungary. In the letter I referred him to my relative, Poincaré, in case he desired to learn more about me. Poincaré had once given very valuable assistance to the Poincaré family in the way of legal advice.

Wrote to Relative. I was obliged to return, however, to Budapest before I received Poincaré's reply. From Budapest I wrote to Poincaré on the political situation in Hungary, and authorized him to communicate what I had written to the French Premier. He thought it fit to tell him that I could understand and certain reluctance to see me on Poincaré's part, for after all, the French Premier might suspect that a political trap was being laid for him. Even his Politics was no knightly tourney, and in this field, if anywhere, distrustfulness was permissible.

The foreign situation, I continued, was very strained. The speeches of the German Chancellor had produced feelings of confidence and buoyancy in Vienna. Efforts were being made to push through a bill giving extraordinary powers to the Government in the event of war. If the bill became law and the law were put into operation, it would amount to the suspension of the Hungarian constitution. The bill gave the Government exceptional powers not only in the event of war, but of the imminent danger of war, and the decision that the danger of war was imminent lay with the Government itself. I added, in this letter that I intended to go to Paris for three weeks in January (1914), and could revisit the Prime Minister then if he desired.

In the interim M. Poincaré was elected President of the French Republic. His influence was not reduced by this, but, if possible, increased. I received an intimation that the President was willing to receive me and went to Paris. The Austro-Hungarian Embassy in Paris had learned somehow of my desire to be received by M. Poincaré, and had grown nervous about the possibility of my being received by the President.

The gentlemen of the Embassy wanted to make me believe that the only way to get near the President of the Republic was through their good offices. I begged them to spare themselves any trouble on my account. I had my invitation in my pocket already.

Received by Poincaré. In the evening the President received me in the Elysee. Passing through six halls and through the hands of several secretaries, I eventually reached his study. I do not know what kind of formalities the President of the United States received his visitors in the White House. That is an opportunity which was not accorded me; but I do know that the

Karolyi's Suppressed Story
Appealed to French to Help
Break Up the Triple AllianceTells of Conversations With Poincare, Cail-laux and Clemenceau and How Latter Predicted World War.

THE Post-Dispatch prints today the eighth of a series of articles written by Count Karolyi, telling the story he could not reveal in speeches in Hungary because of a pledge exacted from him by the State Department in Washington before the Hungarian exile was permitted to land in the United States. The public is already familiar with this "suppressed" story of Karolyi. Now that he has left the country, he has written for the Post-Dispatch the things he wanted to say to the American people.

By COUNT MICHAEL KAROLYI.

MONTREAL, Que., April 22.

BEFORE the war I appealed to three great Frenchmen, Clemenceau, Poincare and Cail-laux to help break the Triple Alliance by separating Austria-Hungary from it. If that could have been done the war might have been prevented.

In Canada, as I discovered before sailing, one feels what the human and economic loss of the war has meant—feels it much more keenly than in the United States. I am reminded again of my efforts to block war—one of the crimes with which I am charged.

In November, 1913, I traveled to Paris to make the first efforts toward a rapprochement between France and Austria-Hungary. During this first tentative approach I had the support of my relative, Marquis Melchior de Polignac, Count Polignac, who loved the Hungarian people and was warmly acquainted with things Hungarian. In renewing old acquaintances, and in forming new ones in press and financial circles, I was constantly on the watch for anyone whose sympathy and influence would be valuable to encourage the idea of a Franco-Hungarian rapprochement.

I wrote to M. Poincare, who was then prime minister, and asked him to receive me and give me an opportunity to discuss Hungarian politics with him, with special reference to foreign affairs, as I had communications to make of importance to France and Hungary. The Prime Minister knew of me, that I was one of the Opposition leaders in Hungary. In my letter I referred him to my relative, Polignac, in case he desired more about me. Poincare had once given very valuable assistance to the Polignac family in the way of legal advice.

Wrote to Relative.

I was obliged to return, however, to Budapest before I received Poincare's reply. From Budapest I wrote to Polignac on the political situation in Hungary, and asked him to communicate what I had written to the French Premier. He thought fit. I told him that I could understand a certain reluctance to see me in Poincare's part, but after all, the French Premier must have been told that I was being laid for him. Even his reluctance would not offend me. Politics was no knightly tourney, and in this field, if anywhere, diffuseness was permissible.

The foreign situation, I continued, was very serious. The speeches of the German Chancellor had produced feelings of confidence and buoyancy in Vienna. Efforts were being made to push through a bill giving extraordinary powers to the government in the event of war. The bill became law and the law was put into operation. It would amount to the suspension of the German constitution. The bill was Government exceptional powers not only in the event of war, but of the imminent danger of war, and the decision that the danger of war was imminent was made by the Government itself. I added in this letter that I intended to visit Paris for three weeks in January (1914), and could revisit the French Minister then if he desired.

In the interim M. Poincare was elected President of the French Republic. His influence was not without effect. If, possibly, it was not this but, if possible, it was the President's willingness to receive me, and went to Paris. The Hungarian Embassy in Paris had learned somehow of my intention, and had received by M. Poincare and had grown nervous about the centenary of the Embassy's arrival in Paris. I begged them to make themselves as trouble as possible. I had my invitation in my pocket already.

Received by Poincare.

On the evening the President received me in the Elysee. Passing through the halls and through the hands of several secretaries, I eventually reached his study. I do not know what kind of fortune the President of the United States received his visitors in the White House. That is an opportunity which was not accorded me, but I do know that the surroundings of the President of the French Republic were more pompous than those of the Emperor-King Charles.

When I walked into his study, I found a square-headed, sharp-eyed little man, seated in front of a huge antique writing desk of the period of Louis XIV. Although he seldom spoke, he studied me in an explanatory manner. He didn't at all resemble that type of Frenchman who is often ridiculed in the Anglo-Saxon press and stage. Instead of enthusiasm, I found this man rather shrewdly matter-of-fact.

The audience lasted about an hour and a half. I had achieved my purpose. I had placed my whole plan before the man on whom success perhaps most depended; he had grasped it, and had not disapproved of it. I begged him to regard what I had said as confidential, for the sake of the success of the effort. Poincare made a strong impression on me. I might say he is the opposite of a Gascon, a true Lorrain. He spoke in an exceptionally precise and carefully chosen terms. He showed an intimate acquaintance with the intricacies of Central European politics. After this audience the whole success of the first stage of my plan hung virtually upon the question whether I could win over the French politicians and capitalists.

His Visit to Clemenceau.
I visited Clemenceau in his home. He was lively and talkative, and did not in the least give the impression of an old man. He went very thoroughly into the details of the political situation in Hungary with me. He was a little skeptical, no doubt, through his experiences in the past, his principal objection was that he felt it was no longer possible to effect the change I wanted, as the dual monarchy was already too firmly held in Germany's clutches. I shall never forget the sardonic laughter of the old Tiger (Clemenceau) when we were discussing this point.

"And you really think that you can persuade the people in Vienna that the sooner they get rid of Germany the better?" he said. "Why, man, these people even if they wanted, could not get rid of Berlin. It is too late. The war is in. Both Berlin and Vienna want it." All this he said scarcely 10 months before the war.

During my interview with Poincare, I had asked him whether I might discuss the financial side of my plan with M. Cailiaux, who was then Minister of Finance, and the President had replied that I should do well to be careful how much I told M. Cailiaux.

I met Joseph Cailiaux several times, both in his home and at the Ministry of Finance. Needless to terms with the French Finance Minister, but in my conversation with him I maintained the reserve counseled by Poincare.

Consultations With Cailiaux.
I had several consultations with Cailiaux. His intelligence sparkled like champagne. Lively and talkative, he seemed to be the antithesis of Poincare. He, also, was anxious to avoid the war. Knowing the man, I never could believe that he was guilty of high treason. He was a progressive man, a modern man, in all respects. He had tried to introduce very bold and radical taxation bills for which he was hated. That was why they picked him out and tried to make a scapegoat of him by a campaign of calumny which, in my belief, was as unjust and unfair as that made against Dreyfus.

Cailiaux had already saved France once from war. He showed the clearest possible comprehension of my plans, and detected at once the anti-German points. He watched the interests of France with passion, and with a happy fertility of ideas. No, his crime was not pro-Germanism but responsiveness to the clear need of the time. This "crime" of Cailiaux will one day, I am firmly convinced, be remembered as his virtue. My own feeling is that Cailiaux completely demonstrated his innocence by his attitude during his imprisonment, during the proceedings before the Senate, and since. His firm and manly endurance during his imprisonment, and his unflinching attitude, proves the irresistible strength of his actual case. The tone of his book, "Mes Prisonniers," is astonishingly objective. It is the tone of an innocent man whom all the hardships of fate have failed to break.

Tragic Error Over New Money.

VIENNA, April 22.—The new Austrian shilling currency, at which reckonings already are being made, although it exists in name only, is causing many errors, sometimes with tragic results. Thus a Styrian farmer, Stefan Schriebel, yesterday hanged himself upon learning that the 200 shillings for which he had sold his farm was not the equivalent of 200,000,000 crowns but only 2,000,000.

COUNTY VOTES ON
$5,000,000 ROAD
BONDS ON TUESDAYProposal for Highway System Includes 300 Miles of Permanent Pavement of a High Type.ADDITIONAL MAIN ARTERIES PLANNEDEngineers' Committee in Drafting Program Took Into Account $908,000
Refund From State.

St. Louis County voters next Tuesday will vote on a bond issue of $5,000,000 for good roads. Approval of the project is sought in order to eliminate many miles of rough, dusty and muddy roads and to give that territory, with its large semirural area, a road system comparable with fine highways elsewhere.

Some facts about the bonds are: A two-thirds majority will be necessary for passage of the issue.

These bonds would mean an average annual tax levy of 21 cents on the $100 to pay for principal and interest during the 20 years for which the bonds would run, proponents figure. Taxes in the suburbs are high, the highest rate being $4.01 in Webster Groves, and the lowest in an incorporated town being $1.15 in Florissant. The highest rate in an unincorporated school district is $2, at Kinloch, and several such districts have the minimum of $1.05.

Almost 300 miles of roads can be given a permanent pavement of concrete or, chiefly, of modern, smooth bituminous material, proponents declare. Types of pavement are not definitely proposed.

The proposal is to provide additional main arteries serving every section of the county, together with badly needed cross-county highways to connect the main roads, and to improve some lesser roads, so that scarcely any road would be more than two or three miles from a high-class thoroughfare, and the two centers will be connected with smooth pavements.

However, the roads proposed for improvement comprise only a tentative plan and the County Court and Highway Engineer would have to determine these things when work began.

The object of the committee in designating roads was to present a tentative plan showing what might be accomplished if the money was made available. This plan has been made the basis of the campaign of the Permanent Road and Bridge Association, which is circulating maps of it.

Persons familiar with county traffic conditions and road needs believe the plan is well prepared from the standpoint of service. It covers all sections and provides for the farmer, the suburbanite and the overflow of traffic from the city, which cannot be kept out and obviously must be accommodated for the safety and convenience of all.

San-Shaped Group.
The county highway system has sprung up as a fan-shaped group of roads extending from the city, without adequate cross-connections. Lemay Ferry, Gravois, Manchester and St. Charles are the four main roads, which form the nucleus, plus Olive Street road, paved part of the way out, and three county roads at the north end. Improvement of these roads and a group of shorter thoroughfares, totaling 101 miles, constituted the accomplishment under the $3,000,000 bond issue voted nine years ago.

Chief additional arteries spreading out from the hub, as now planned, are Telegraph road (beyond Jefferson Barracks), Lafayette Station and Tesson Ferry roads (Webster Groves southward), Big Bend and Antire roads (through the chief suburban area, Valley Park and the Meramec River valley to Pacific), Lockwood avenue, Kirkwood, and the now extremely rugged Sugar Creek road, with connections to Valley Park (part of the "Ozark Trail"), Clayton road (to its western termination), Olive Street road (to the Missouri River), Natural Bridge road (full length), and Columbia Bottom road.

Four Belt Highways Planned.

Four belt highways, connecting the outboard arteries, are planned to be, roughly, one and a half, five, 10 and 17 miles beyond the city. The first of these would start at Riverview drive, near Chain of Rocks, run west to Ferguson, south through Clayton, traversing Spring, North and South, and other roads, through the eastern part of Webster Groves and across Lafayette Station road, with several connections to Lemay Ferry and Telegraph roads.

The second would connect Columbia Bottom road, Florissant

Lambert-St. Louis Field, Bridge-ton, Stratmann, Kirkwood, Sunset Hill, Mehlville and Jefferson Barracks. From Pattonville, on St. Charles road, to Mehlville, on Lemay Ferry road, this belt is to be built by the State with the $908,000 due the county, connecting the four State highways. This will include the full length of Denny road.

The third would connect the present junction of Natural Bridge and St. Charles roads, run between Creve Coeur Lake and the little lake and connect Manchester, Valley Park and Fenton. This would be especially beneficial to the Creve Coeur Lake district, between St. Charles and Olive Street roads, now lacking good highways.

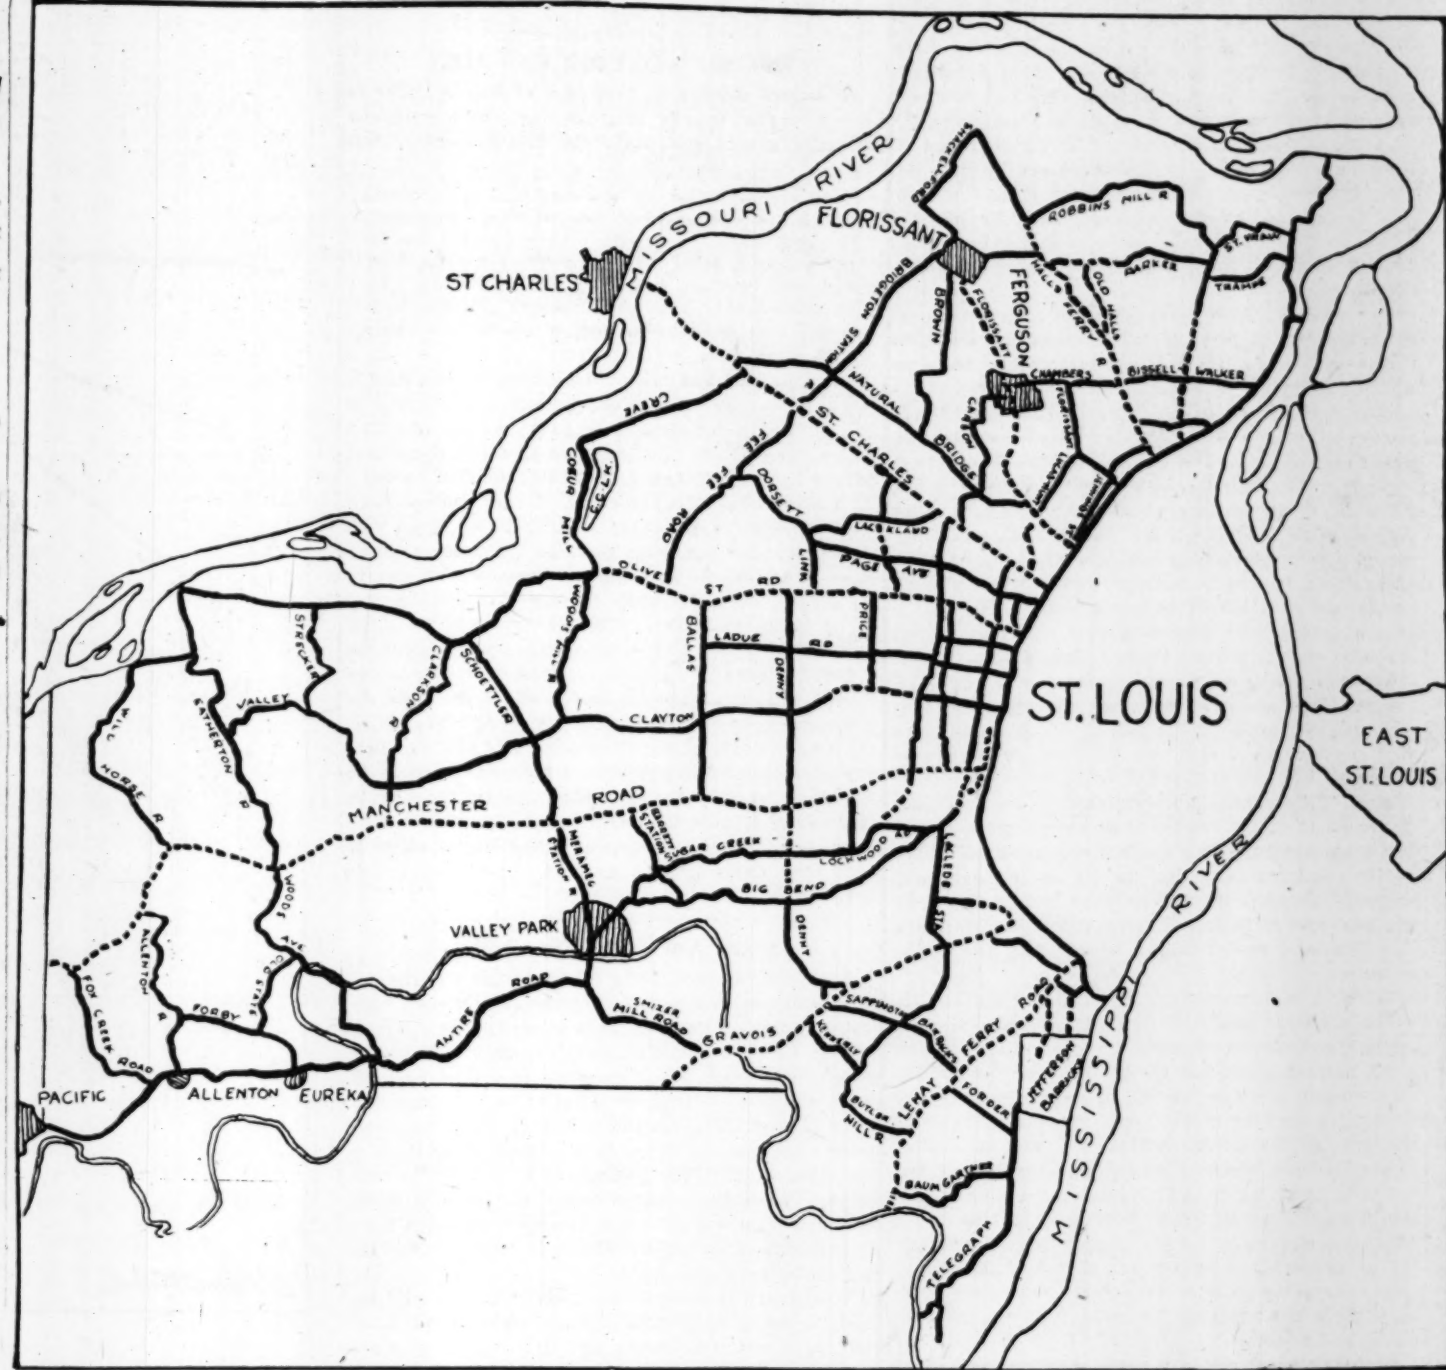

The fourth would serve the western extremity of the county, connecting the Missouri River end of Olive Street road, Monarch, Grover (via Eatherton road), Glencoe, Crescent and the Antire road. This would involve the construction of a new highway bridge across the Meramec River at Glencoe, giving better access to this vacation land.

Street Improvements.
Various other connecting links are planned, as shown by the map. Virtually a fifth belt route would be made by construction of Pennsylvania avenue and other streets in the suburbs. In fact, all the county municipalities would receive street improvements from the plan, including the following:

University City—Pennsylvania, Sutter, Hanley, Delmar and Forsythe.
Clayton—Pennsylvania, Hanley, Clayton, North and South and Ladue.
Richmond Heights—Pennsylvania, Clayton and Hanley.
Brentwood—Hanley and North and South.
Maplewood—Laclede Station, Webster Groves—Big Bend, Lockwood and Gore (between Lockwood and Shady).
Glendale and Oakland—Big Bend, Lockwood, Berry.
Kirkwood—Big Bend and Adams.
Valley Park—Daugherty Ferry and Meramec Station.
Ferguson—Chambers and Carson.
Florissant—Connections from Florissant road to Parker and Patterson roads.

Major Road Connections.
The proposed plan gives major road connections with the major thoroughfare scheme of the St. Louis City Plan Committee at 16 points and fails to make connections at four points. No new roads are contemplated, except a mile-and-a-half stretch as an extension of Clayton road.
There will be no Federal or State aid to augment the bond funds. The $3,000,000 bond issue of 1916 was augmented by about $900,000 in Federal aid and $30,000 in State aid, and in addition there is the expected refund of $908,000 from

Suggested Plan for County Road Improvement

THIS map, copied after the one used in the campaign of the St. Louis County Permanent Road and Bridge Association, shows the tentative proposal for roads to be improved under the $5,000,000 bond issue to be voted on in the county next Tuesday. The scheme, which is subject to the action of the County Court, is to provide additional main arteries and to make up for the lack of good cross-county connecting highways. The roads shown in solid lines are those proposed for improvement, while those shown in dotted lines were improved under the old $3,000,000 bond issue. Some details were omitted from this map to avoid blurring in reproduction.

tain widely used patented material was preferred.

The committee did not estimate the cost of definite stretches of road, nor definitely plan the materials to be used, believing that the County Court and Highway Engineer would have to determine these things when work began.

The object of the committee in designating roads was to present a tentative plan showing what might be accomplished if the money was made available. This plan has been made the basis of the campaign of the Permanent Road and Bridge Association, which is circulating maps of it.

Persons familiar with county traffic conditions and road needs believe the plan is well prepared from the standpoint of service. It covers all sections and provides for the farmer, the suburbanite and the overflow of traffic from the city, which cannot be kept out and obviously must be accommodated for the safety and convenience of all.

San-Shaped Group.

The county highway system has sprung up as a fan-shaped group of roads extending from the city, without adequate cross-connections. Lemay Ferry, Gravois, Manchester and St. Charles are the four main roads, which form the nucleus, plus Olive Street road, paved part of the way out, and three county roads at the north end. Improvement of these roads and a group of shorter thoroughfares, totaling 101 miles, constituted the accomplishment under the $3,000,000 bond issue voted nine years ago.

Chief additional arteries spreading out from the hub, as now planned, are Telegraph road (beyond Jefferson Barracks), Lafayette Station and Tesson Ferry roads (Webster Groves southward), Big Bend and Antire roads (through the chief suburban area, Valley Park and the Meramec River valley to Pacific), Lockwood avenue, Kirkwood, and the now extremely rugged Sugar Creek road, with connections to Valley Park (part of the "Ozark Trail"), Clayton road (to its western termination), Olive Street road (to the Missouri River), Natural Bridge road (full length), and Columbia Bottom road.

Four Belt Highways Planned.

Four belt highways, connecting the outboard arteries, are planned to be, roughly, one and a half, five, 10 and 17 miles beyond the city. The first of these would start at Riverview drive, near Chain of Rocks, run west to Ferguson, south through Clayton, traversing Spring, North and South, and other roads, through the eastern part of Webster Groves and across Lafayette Station road, with several connections to Lemay Ferry and Telegraph roads.

The second would connect Columbia Bottom road, Florissant

Lambert-St. Louis Field, Bridge-ton, Stratmann, Kirkwood, Sunset Hill, Mehlville and Jefferson Barracks. From Pattonville, on St. Charles road, to Mehlville, on Lemay Ferry road, this belt is to be built by the State with the $908,000 due the county, connecting the four State highways. This will include the full length of Denny road.

The third would connect the present junction of Natural Bridge and St. Charles roads, run between Creve Coeur Lake and the little lake and connect Manchester, Valley Park and Fenton. This would be especially beneficial to the Creve Coeur Lake district, between St. Charles and Olive Street roads, now lacking good highways.

The fourth would serve the western extremity of the county, connecting the Missouri River end of Olive Street road, Monarch, Grover (via Eatherton road), Glencoe, Crescent and the Antire road. This would involve the construction of a new highway bridge across the Meramec River at Glencoe, giving better access to this vacation land.

Street Improvements.
Various other connecting links are planned, as shown by the map. Virtually a fifth belt route would be made by construction of Pennsylvania avenue and other streets in the suburbs. In fact, all the county municipalities would receive street improvements from the plan, including the following:

University City—Pennsylvania, Sutter, Hanley, Delmar and Forsythe.
Clayton—Pennsylvania, Hanley, Clayton, North and South and Ladue.
Richmond Heights—Pennsylvania, Clayton and Hanley.
Brentwood—Hanley and North and South.
Maplewood—Laclede Station, Webster Groves—Big Bend, Lockwood and Gore (between Lockwood and Shady).
Glendale and Oakland—Big Bend, Lockwood, Berry.
Kirkwood—Big Bend and Adams.
Valley Park—Daugherty Ferry and Meramec Station.
Ferguson—Chambers and Carson.
Florissant—Connections from Florissant road to Parker and Patterson roads.

Major Road Connections.
The proposed plan gives major road connections with the major thoroughfare scheme of the St. Louis City Plan Committee at 16 points and fails to make connections at four points. No new roads are contemplated, except a mile-and-a-half stretch as an extension of Clayton road.

There will be no Federal or State aid to augment the bond funds. The $3,000,000 bond issue of 1916 was augmented by about $900,000 in Federal aid and $30,000 in State aid, and in addition there is the expected refund of $908,000 from the State. The old bond issue was tied up for several years by litigation, during which time prices of materials rose. This was the first issue of bonds ever floated by the county. Already $368,000 worth of them have been retired, leaving $2,632,000 outstanding, and there is $697,336 in the sinking fund against this obligation. These bonds are to be retired between 1926 and 1936.

County Highway Engineer Jablonsky will be in charge of the technical work of improvement if the new bond issue carries. The County Court, which directs him, being composed of three non-technical men. Jablonsky is a graduate of Washington University and member of the American Society of Civil Engineers. He feels certain that the plan is proposed for success and a comparatively light turnout of voters is expected, proponents of the issue realize that intensive work is required to arouse interest of those favoring the issue.

One definite organization fighting the bonds has been formed, the Executive Committee of Citizens Opposed to the Bond Issue, comprising chiefly residents of Richmond Heights and vicinity. Its chief argument is that the issue has been suggested as a step to oppose possible merger of the county and city, which a Board of Freeholders is to consider soon.

In a pamphlet addressed to voters this committee declares:

"Above every other reason why you should oppose the bond issue, is the fact that the chief and principal purpose of its being put forward at this time is to hinder, delay and ultimately block the merger of the city of St. Louis with the county. In other words, to make annexation next to impossible. The backers of this bond issue, each and every one of whom, if not positively and unalterably opposed to the merger or annexation of St. Louis County and the city, at least shows a very unfriendly attitude toward annexation, coming forward at this time with a bond issue calculated to place an unsurmountable barrier in the path of annexation; a dashingly and tricky scheme, hidden under the name of a bond issue, to defeat the will of the people, so overwhelmingly expressed at the polls last November and on several other previous occasions as well—on the merger and annexation plan."

"Practically without exception, every citizen, taxpayer and voter who favors real annexation has been found to be bitterly opposed to this bond issue, for each and every one of them realizes that every single benefit promised under this bond issue can be accomplished quicker, better and at one-fifth or one-tenth of the cost by the realization of that great forward-looking scheme, that great dream of all true lovers of St. Louis County, that plan which will make a greater St. Louis, a greater St. Louis County, and a greater Missouri, which will give you all the benefits of citizenship in a large city; better roads, better schools, lower water, light, gas and insurance rates, and lower your taxes besides."

Judge Smiley told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that he would not be bound by the proposed plan, feeling some important roads had been omitted. He said he would follow the Advisory Committee's advice no more than that of any other citizens.

Judge Preiss said he would follow the plan in general and would follow the recommendations of the Advisory Committee, but would not be bound by it, and would try to follow the proposed plan.

All the Judges agreed that the possible mileage and types of pavement would have to be worked out. Smiley is a Democrat and is often outvoted by the others, who are Republicans.

The issue can hardly be raised that improving county roads is of benefit only to city joy riders since the latest automobile registration figures were: County, 25,516, and city, 122,068. The plan proposed would open much country of great scenic interest for motorists.

Organized Opposition to the Bond Issue.

There is a definite sentiment of opposition to the bond issue among some individual voters. Because a two-thirds vote is necessary for success and a comparatively light turnout of voters is expected, proponents of the issue realize that intensive work is required to arouse interest of those favoring the issue.

One definite organization fighting the bonds has been formed, the Executive Committee of Citizens Opposed to the Bond Issue, comprising chiefly residents of Richmond Heights and vicinity. Its chief argument is that the issue has been suggested as a step to oppose possible merger of the county and city, which a Board of Freeholders is to consider soon.

PARIS, April 22.—Cailiaux has his vote of confidence from the Chamber of Deputies. Last night, after a nine-hour debate that turned almost exclusively around Cailiaux, the new Painleve Government was given a majority of 84. The vote was 304 to 218.

From 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight the new Government was under fire, Cailiaux sitting through the constant insult poured on him from tribune and benches. When finally he made a brief declaration on financial policy, after having been called "defeatist," "traitor" and "associate of thieves," the only evidence of the strain on his patience was the red flush over his bald head.

Painleve Calmed Cailiaux.

Painleve sat in the ministerial bench between Cailiaux and Briand, symbol of the united force in the Cabinet. Repeatedly during the day when the insults heaped on Cailiaux went beyond all ordinary parliamentary bounds, Cailiaux squirmed, but Painleve's restraining hand lay lightly on his arm. The opposition, organized to insult, chose to use vituperation rather than logic, and so before the ordeal was over the sympathy of the Chamber was with Cailiaux.

The vindictive sallies began as Cailiaux's conspicuously bald pate appeared in the corridor following the abundantly thatched heads of Painleve and Briand. "Deserter," "traitor," "defeatist," and similar epithets sounded from the high benches while the left and center cheered.

Charles Bertrand opened the assault by declaring the presence of Cailiaux in the ministry was a challenge to the war dead. Piers Tattinger followed, calling Cailiaux a defeatist and shouting at him:

"During the war you were constantly surrounded by spies and traitors. We don't want to make a Finance Minister who will have around him doubtful characters." Tattinger's violence called for the response which Painleve gave when he declared Cailiaux was France's ablest financial expert.

"Cailiaux wanted us to make a big internal loan right after the battle of the Marne," the Premier declared, "and if we had done so we would not today be in our present financial embarrassment."

Accuses Cailiaux of Treason.
Bislat, who then took up the torrent of abuse, charged Cailiaux with treason on account of his famous Italian voyage during the war. This time Briand took a hand in the defense of Cailiaux, saying that the charges against Cailiaux which were submitted to him at the time did not "hold water."

Cailiaux, impatient under the long ordeal, became nervous and shrugged his shoulders at each new charge. Pointing down at him, Bislat shouted: "Monsieur Cailiaux, you can swagger and paw the ground, but you are none the less undesirable in the interests of the country."

Finally Deputy Landry asked if the new government really had inflation, arbitrary consolidation of debt, and a capital levy. Cailiaux replied, during one of the few moments of comparative silence in the session, saying the Ministry of Finance was in a state of disorder. He referred to confusion in accounts and abuse of special accounts.

"I have no intention of asking the Bank of France for more advances," he said. "I have no intention of consolidating the debts in a way which practically would mean bankruptcy. I want to see the present budget voted as soon as possible, and by June I will present next year's."

Briand was asked to explain his foreign policy. Jean Fabry wanted to know whether he favored security treaties with Germany, whereas Herriot intervened to say that Fabry was mistaken in thinking that France was ready to enter into agreements with Germany without guarantees. Briand then declared:

"Germany is making a play. She is trying to make the best out of the negotiations. France is not hoodwinked. The only certainty of peace will be when Germany is in the League of Nations, which will settle the questions of security and peace."

"Germany is making a play. She is trying to make the best out of the negotiations. France is not hoodwinked. The only certainty of peace will be when Germany is in the League of Nations, which will settle the questions of security and peace."

WILLS OF WORK DONE BY PENNSYLVANIA U.

Josiah Penniman, President, Speaks Before St. Louis Alumni.

Accomplishments of the University of Pennsylvania during the 185 years of its existence were outlined tonight by Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, president of the university in address before St. Louis alumni of the University Club. Dr. Penniman told of the plans for raising a fund of $45,000,000 by 1940, when the university will celebrate its 200th anniversary.

The university started as a pioneer, Dr. Penniman said, "and has been such down the centuries." The following is a list of "firsts" to which not a few others might be added:

- First comprehensive college curriculum.
- First medical school in America.
- First laboratory in the United States for instruction in chemistry.
- First to fight tuberculosis by scientific research.
- First professorship of law.
- First university school of business.
- First to confer the degree of Doctor of Public Hygiene.
- First college union.
- First psychological clinic.
- First department of research medicine.

Honoring Spirit.

The pioneering spirit has continued down to the present time as an animating force of the university. Just now the university is looking forward to the celebration of the two-hundredth anniversary of her founding. Preparations for the celebration are on foot. Owing largely, however, to the great increase in costs during the past years, the maintenance of the available position has become increasingly difficult, and a movement to obtain necessary funds has been inaugurated.

City 1940, the two-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the university, it is planned, as a fitting memorial, to complete the raising of $45,000,000. The immediate objective is to take care of the most pressing needs, represented by the sum of $12,600,000.

Industry, agriculture, business generally, Government, are dependent more than ever before upon the co-operation of universities, and they are calling for broadly educated men. Their reason for so doing is clear, once the facts are understood. Civilization in all its phases is such that to be really successful a man must be more than a business man. He must be something of a statesman and philosopher. He must study a people's history and customs, its literature and language, its relations to its Government and to other nations, and its psychology.

Culture to Direct Knowledge.

This is precisely the attitude of the university. It has had from the beginning. The strength of the learning is in its breadth, its culture. Culture is what makes an idea its widest usefulness. Benjamin Franklin and the University of Pennsylvania have had from the beginning. The strength of the learning is in its breadth, its culture. Culture is what makes an idea its widest usefulness.

MISS EMILY KAUFFMAN.

A group of St. Louisans are making their plans to attend the Derby at Louisville, Ky., May 16. Craig Culbertson of Louisville will give a house party at his home, and has invited Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Kauffman of 51 Portland place and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Potter of the Litzinger road. Sam Stone, also of Louisville, will have as his guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farrier of Mississippi, and Mrs. Brown-O'Fallon of New York, formerly of St. Louis. Pershing avenue will depart May 7 to visit her mother, Mrs. John Avery Haldeman, in Louisville, and Mr. Wendling will join her later.

Mrs. Glider Davis Jackson of San Pedro, Cal., wife of Capt. Jackson, U. S. M. C., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Allen V. Cockrell, of 230 North Newstead avenue. Mrs. Cockrell, who spent the winter with her son-in-law and daughter, returned with her mother, Mrs. Jackson, who was Miss Vesta Reed before her marriage, will remain here a month. She then will go to Philadelphia to meet Capt. Jackson, and they will be stationed in that city. The Captain is now in Honolulu with the fleet on maneuvers. Mrs. Cockrell will go to Fish Creek, Wis., early in the summer with her sister, Mrs. Calvin R. Lightner, to spend the season at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moffat of 7103 Maryland avenue, and their daughter, Miss Margaret Moffat, are visiting in Buffalo, N. Y., where Miss Moffat was maid of honor at the wedding Saturday of her cousin, Miss Marion Agnes Moffat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Moffat of Kenmore, N. Y., and Justin Colfax Morgan, which took place in the Church of Christ in Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. Moffat and Miss Moffat will return home Sunday.

Miss Helen Staudinger entertained a small group of close friends today at a luncheon in honor of Miss Doris K. Loy, when the engagement of the honor guest to Karl Page Spencer was announced. Miss Loy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Loy, 2908 Accomac street, and Spencer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Spencer, 4319 Lindell boulevard. Those present were Mrs. L. K. Loy, Mrs. Willis Bliss, Mrs. Claude Hurster, Mrs. Gilbert Turner, Mrs. Ed Cox and Mrs. George Clippner.

Mrs. Thomas La Rue Huselton of Atlantic City arrived Sunday to spend two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter Barnett, of 5315 Waterman avenue. Mrs. Huselton was Miss Beth Barnett before her marriage in February.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hall, who have spent the past six months on a tour of the world, have returned to St. Louis and have taken an apartment in the Gatesworth Hotel.

Re-election of Mrs. Joseph S. Calfee as president of the Board of Religious Organizations was voted on Monday morning at a business meeting of the board at the Chase Hotel, preceding the annual luncheon. The Executive Committee, according to the new list, now is as follows: First vice president, Mrs. Robert L. Lund; second vice president, Mrs. C. Howard Stewart; third vice president, Miss Nellie Richards; fourth vice president, Mrs. H. S. Butler; fifth vice president, Mrs. Thomas H.

MISS BLANCHE NEVIN, ARTIST, DIES.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 22.—Miss Blanche Nevin, widely known as a sculptress and artist, died here last night. She was 57 years old and a daughter of the late John W. Nevin, former president of Franklin and Marshall College. Miss Nevin was an aunt of Francis Bowes Sayre, counselor for the King of Siam and husband of Jessie Wilson, daughter of former President Woodrow Wilson.

DAWES GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Vice President and Mrs. Dawes returned to Washington last night for their first visit since adjournment of the special session of the Senate and went to the White House as guests of President and Mrs. Coolidge. Dawes will depart tonight for Marietta, O., for the funeral of a relative.

MAY CABANNE TO WED AL V. LEVY TODAY

Priest to Perform Ceremony and Rabbi Miller Will Pronounce Blessing.

THE wedding of Miss May Cabanne, daughter of Mrs. Charles Gratiot Cabanne, and Al V. Levy, will take place at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at Mrs. Cabanne's apartment in the Guild Hall, Euclid avenue and West Pine boulevard. The ceremony is to be performed by the Rev. Father Tucker of the New Cathedral and Rabbi Julian Miller of the B'nai El Temple is to pronounce the blessing.

The arrangements will be simple and guests limited to members of the immediate families. Byron Ackerman will be best man and the only attendant.

The bride will wear a poude blue georgette ensemble suit. The gown is accented with a wide white sash and a wide white belt. Her hat is of eclair malle, made close fitting, with a chou of the malle fastened at one side with a rhinestone ornament. She will have a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. An informal reception will follow and Mr. Levy and his bride will depart for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will be at the Broadmoor Hotel. Upon their return they will make their home temporarily at the Forest Park Hotel.

Miss Cabanne is a graduate of the Sacred Heart convent and made her debut several years ago. She has served as a maid of honor at the eviled Prophet ball. Her mother was Miss May Martin of Kentucky and her father's family was prominently identified with early St. Louis history. Mr. Levy is the son of Mrs. Hattie Levy of the Savoy Court Apartments.

ESTATE OF MRS. L. V. S. AMES VALUED AT $364,280

Practically All of Property Bequeathed to Her Three Children.

An inventory of the estate of Mrs. Lucy Virginia Sempie Ames of 3824 Lindell boulevard, who died Feb. 7 last, was filed in Probate Court today. Listing personal property and other assets valued at $364,280.85, practically all of which was bequeathed to her three children. Mrs. Ames was the widow of Edgar Ames, pioneer St. Louis capitalist and philanthropist, and was a daughter of former United States Senator James Sempie of Illinois. She died of the infirmities of age, being 88 at the time of her death.

The estate consists principally of stocks and bonds, $236,000 of stock in the Ames Realty Co. being listed in the inventory, which also listed other stocks valued at $9000 and bonds valued at $106,000.

By the terms of her will, which was filed recently, most of the estate is left to a son, Edgar, of Seattle, Wash., and two daughters, Mrs. Ada S. Turner and Mrs. Mary A. Cushman of St. Louis. In 1919 Mrs. Ames gave $10,000 as an endowment of a fellowship at Washington University in the memory of another son, Henry Sempie Ames, who died in 1916.

JOSEPH R. BARROLL DIES AT AGE OF 58

Funeral of Late Manager of Butler Bros. Will Be at 2:30 P. M. Tomorrow.

Funeral services for Joseph R. Barroll, manager of Butler Bros., who died yesterday, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Spring avenue and Lindell boulevard, of which he was senior warden. The body will lie at the church for two hours preceding the funeral.

Barroll was 58 years old and had been manager of Butler Bros. for 27 years. He had been ill of pneumonia for about 10 months.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., he began his career as a stock clerk in Chicago in 1883. Later he was attached to the foreign department of Butler Bros., and made his first trip to Europe as a buyer when he was only 20 years old.

During the World War Barroll was active in war work, and, in addition to his other duties, was Captain of the motor train of the First Missouri Home Guard Regiment. His son, Joseph R. Barroll Jr., who was an officer in the war, died in July, 1920. Barroll is survived by his widow and Mrs. Eugenia Vassar Barroll, Duncan, a daughter. Mrs. and Mrs. Barroll resided at Hotel Chase.

Two years ago Barroll accidentally put his right hand in a whirling ventilating fan, suffering injuries which necessitated amputation of his thumb and two fingers.

PIONEERS TO RE-ENACT 'RUN' INTO CENTRAL OKLAHOMA

Frontier Day Parade Held on First Day of Celebration of 38th Anniversary of Opening.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 22.—With the first day of the two-day celebration of the thirty-eighth anniversary of the historic "run" into the Oklahoma country over, many of the pioneers who made the historic run, their wives and their children today planned to bring the celebration to a climax with a reenactment of the "run" as it occurred on April 22, 1889, when at the sound of a bugle, blown by a soldier, and the crack of carbines, at the command of an officer at exactly 12 noon, more than 100,000 persons rushed into Central Oklahoma to stake a claim.

Many of those who made the "run" rushed into the territory on horseback, others rode in wagons of all descriptions, while some ran on foot.

Yesterday the frontier day parade was held, with pioneers of the early Oklahoma days participating.

The first postoffice of Oklahoma City, reproduced, caused much comment. Built crudely of upright logs, irregularly cut boards and covered with sheet iron, the postoffice attracted a great deal of attention from the crowds which thronged the streets. The first home in Oklahoma City was also reproduced. It was a sod hut, covered with a crude roof and lined with boards.

Begin it today!

All he got for his trouble was a blow across the face. She was afraid of all emotion—was Gita Carteret, and she shut her eyes to the appeal of romance. Was it because she was really without emotion or was she a woman after all?

GERTRUDE ATHERTON'S Long-awaited New Novel, even more amazing than "Black Oxen"

LITTLE more than a year ago "Black Oxen" took the world of letters by storm. Everyone gasped at the boldness of its theme—old as the fountain of youth—new as modern science could make it. Everyone envied the author's daring in putting New York's social and literary lights bodily into her story. And everyone asked, "Can she do it again?"

Franker, more brilliantly conceived and executed is the wonderful story which now follows it—

"THE CRYSTAL CUP" by Gertrude Atherton, author of "Black Oxen," "Conqueror," etc.

THE most intimate study anyone has yet had the courage to publish dealing with the modern young girl. Gita, the arch-type of the flapper, hard and disillusioned at twenty-two. Yet with a child's heart in spite of it all!

Mrs. Atherton plumbs the very depths of modern psychology in this profound picture of the younger generation.

You will be fascinated by the story of this defiant, lovely girl who has just come into possession of an old manor and a husband by courtesy.

And you will be baffled by the riddle of Gita. Was she really without emotion—this girl who hated the very touch of a man—or was she a woman after all?

You will not know the answer until you read through to the last dramatic chapter. This marvelous new novel is complete in only four issues and begins in the May Pictorial Review.

OIL MEN QUESTIONED ABOUT POSSIBILITIES OF SUBSTITUTES

President's Conservation Board
Seeks Views of Leaders As to Future of Industry.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Fifty leaders in the oil industry were asked by the President's Conservation Board, in letters today, for their views concerning possible substitutes for domestic oil wells and the products now derived therefrom.

The board, of which Secretary
Work is chairman, was advised by Government experts that an average of 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline is being used daily in the United States. The experts' report noted that this country "is the largest producer and the largest consumer of petroleum, with rapidly diminishing resources."

Questions propounded in the board's letter include:
"Broadly speaking, does the utilization of one or more of the petroleum substitutes mentioned, or others, with which you may be familiar, offer possibilities of immediate importance in relation to the conservation of petroleum?"
"What measures, if any, would you care to recommend to the end that this nation might be prepared to utilize these or other substitutes to the best advantage?"

SHOULD A COP ON DUTY HAVE PANTS MENDED?

Police Board to Decide Question in Case of Officer Missing at Bank's Holdup.

The Board of Police Commissioners, in session assembled Friday, will decide the grave question to wit: If a patrolman's trousers are torn in a conspicuous place, should the patrolman have them rehabilitated while on duty?

There is no record that any previous board has had a like question to contemplate. The present board might not have had it, if Officer Philip Duff of the Deer Street Station had not had a speedily weakening patch in the lower portion of his uniform on the day several robbers decided to hold up the Mound City Trust Co. at Union boulevard and St. Louis Avenue.

The whole affair is an interesting case of the coincidental. In the first place, at some time in the life of Patrolman Duff's trousers, those trousers suffered a contusion or laceration or a weakening of the constitution at a particular spot not entirely inconspicuous.

Patch Weakened.
The officer's wife at that time ministered to the damaged portion and the trousers once again became serviceable and ready to stand inspection, both by Duff's superiors and by the general citizenry. Then the patch weakened; Mrs. Duff was ill and unable to again come to her husband's trousers' assistance. It remained for Duff to see a tailor.

Now, on the morning of March 3, Duff was instructed to make several visits to the trust company, which was on his beat. Shortly after 9 o'clock he did so, and while he was there in walked Samuel Katofsky, tailor of a few doors away, to make a deposit.

Caught.
"When are you going to bring those pants around for me to fix?" inquired Katofsky, who had heard about the patrolman's misfortune. "Right away," replied Policeman Duff, and to Katofsky's shop he went, removed the trousers and handed them over to the tailor.

CHEESE
richer & uniformly

because mellowed in a NEW WAY

CREAMIER, tenderer cheese with a delicate distinction of flavor. See how delighted your family will be with it whether it appears at luncheon or at dinner, or at Sunday night supper.

And how the friends who drop in to tea whisk away those superlative cheese sandwiches! Salads, desserts and after-dinner coffee are glorified by partnership with cheese of such tender, creamy, different goodness.

A single further step made by cheesemakers who for generations have been making cheeses for the finest tables gives this tantalizing difference—a new way of mellowing undreamed of by earlier cheesemakers.

It comes in American, Swiss, Pimiento and other popular varieties. You will find it at your grocer's or the delicatessen.

When you have tasted this mellow, richer cheese you will want to use it in more and different ways. We have prepared a new and interesting booklet, "Delicious Cheese Recipes." Send for it FREE. The Phenix Cheese Corporation, 218 W. Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

COOLIDGE MAKES PHONO-FILM SPEECH

Words Spoken Week Ago
Heard by Editors in New York.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 22.—An address by President Coolidge, in which he sounded a message of peace and prosperity was broadcast last night from a specially prepared phono-film made a week ago at the White House, marking what was said to be the first attempt ever made to broadcast a voice from the motion picture screen.

The film, which recorded both the movements and voice of the President, was shown at the Friars Club to visiting editors and publishers in New York, dinner guests of Moses Koenigsberg, president of the King Features Syndicate, International News Service and Universal Service.

Lee de Forest personally supervised the making of the film and its projection, while the Radio Corporation of America took charge of the broadcasting.

The demonstration, described as a notable scientific achievement, enabled the President to reach millions of persons with his message without taking active personal part in the immediate process. Expressing his amazement at the wonder of the invention, President Coolidge said that he had chosen to speak of matters as old and familiar as the new process was new and novel.

Again Urges Economy.
"The nation holds a position unsurpassed in all former human experience," he said. "I do not profess that we can secure an era of perfection in earthly existence, but we can provide an era of peace and prosperity, attended with freedom and justice and made more and more satisfying by the ministrations of the charities and humanities of life."

Reiterating his plea for economy in Government, the President asserted that the nation must make progress in an orderly, sound, common-sense way. The right of private property and self-government within limits "imposed not by the fiat of man, but by the law of the Creator," he described as the foundation of American Government.

"Our domestic problems are for the most part economic," he said. "We have our enormous debt to pay, and we are paying it. We have the high cost of Government to diminish, and we are diminishing it. We have a heavy burden of taxation to reduce, and we are reducing it. But while remarkable progress has been made, the work is yet far from accomplished."

Taxes and Prosperity.
"In my opinion, the Government can do more to remedy the economic ills of the people by rigid economy in public expenditure than through any other action. The annual costs of our national and local governments combined now stand at a sum close to $100 for each inhabitant of the land. It is an ominous fact that only the national Government is reducing its debt. The establishment of a system of drastic economy in public expenditure, which has enabled us to pay off about one-fifth of the national debt since 1919, and almost cut in two the national tax burden since 1921, has been one of the main causes in re-establishing a prosperity which has come to include within its benefits almost every one of our inhabitants. Economy one of our inhabitants. Economy a blessing to everybody."

Asserting it axiomatic that America must go forward, the President warned against pretenses and vagaries and against abandonment of the principles of the Declaration of Independence. Living under these principles, the American people have come into great material and spiritual possessions, he said.

"I want our institutions to be more and more expressive of these principles," the President concluded. "I want the people of all the earth to see in the American flag the symbol of a Government which intends no oppression at home and no aggression abroad, and which, in the spirit of a common brotherhood, provides assistance in times of distress."

Kelly Flexible Cord

The Integral Bead
Construction
Does It

KELLY way

By the use of an entirely new and radically different process of manufacture, used only by Kelly, the bead is formed by enclosing strips of insulated braided wire in the loops formed by the cords, which, instead of extending merely from bead to bead as in ordinary construction, are continuous from the beginning of the inner ply to the end of the outer. Thus the bead is actually a part of the tire from the first, instead of being set into it later and held in by adhesion.

With the new Kelly construction the cords are not cut off at the beads, but are continuous and are built in at an absolutely uniform tension so that the tire has more "give" and flexibility. The bead cannot break out or separate.

The ordinary way

The bead is built as a separate unit in the form of a ring and partly curved. It is then fastened into the tire by the plies of cord fabric. These plies are not wrapped entirely around the bead; some extend along one side and some along two sides, but none around all three. The loose ends are then covered by the "chaffer strip," which extends from the point marked "A" to the point marked "B" in the drawing. Most makers also use what is called a "dipper strip" which helps to hold in the bead, but has the effect of stiffening the lower part of the sidewall so that the point at which it ends forms a sort of hinge where the flexing of the sidewall is localized, making an acute angle of bend. In the new Kelly construction the dipper strip is eliminated.

The best tire Kelly ever built

THE KELLY FLEXIBLE CORD is the only tire in which the bead is built in as an integral part. Since it is this new Integral Bead construction that makes the flexibility possible, it follows that no tire built by the ordinary method can offer the same combination of mileage and comfort.

Rugged, dependable and easy-riding, here is indeed the best tire that even Kelly has ever built.

use has endeared

In the Lives of Famous People

It figures in interesting situations where Queens, Princesses, Presidents are concerned—preserving their rare and beautiful things—serving in sturdier tasks too, with equal trustworthiness.

IT'S NO mere coincidence that Lux figures so prominently in the lives of famous personages! Queens, Princesses, Presidents, men and women who are noted in many different fields of endeavor! Its daily use has endeared it to millions who have come to trust it beyond anything they ever used.

The QUEEN OF SWEDEN

"THERE had been a state dinner at the home of the Marshal of the Court of Sweden. The following day when I happened to be with the wife of the Court Marshal, one of her maids came into the room holding some priceless doilies of cobweb fineness—sadly soiled. Her Ladyship told me the doilies had been lent her for the dinner by one of the Ladies-in-Waiting to the Queen. She probably would have to return them personally with apologies! Here I interrupted: 'If you don't mind I would like to save the situation' (confident that I could safely depend on my good friend Lux). The precious lace doilies were handed over to me. When the little things had dried I examined them and, indeed, I felt proud. I could see no trace of soil whatever!"

Mrs. S. Fagrell, California

The PRINCESS ROSPIGLIOSI'S treasured heirloom—

her great grandmother's wedding veil—a bit of rare old lace so delicate and beautiful and so cherished by this Italian Princess she dare not trust it to any other cleansing.

"ONE of my choicest possessions is my great grandmother's wedding veil of old blonde. It requires the most delicate treatment. Of course there is nothing better than Lux to clean it with. I can say after using Lux that it deserves my warmest approval."

Princess Giambattista RospiGLIOSI

IN MANY a ticklish situation where beautiful things have been soiled and despaired of, Lux has proved its trustworthiness. The everyday tasks, too, it performs faithfully in homes all over the world. The incidents related here are only a few of many in which Lux has played a prominent role.

Now—for the whole family Laundry

—it pays to give cottons and linens the same care you give fine fabrics—and it is such a relief to your hands

ONE DAY "Why not Lux for the hardest job of all—Monday's laundry?" you said. "All my things are so nice and cost so much nowadays—they simply cannot stand the wear and tear of strong soap." Joyfully you call on Lux to work its wonders. And it does!

Your becoming little housedresses with their intriguing all-over designs, the children's cheery gingham, those nice, monogrammed towels you cherish so, your fine sheets—all come out of its gentle cleansing suds fresher, newer-looking than ever before, colors unfaded, whites snowy clean!

Now everything lasts much longer!

For there's nothing in Lux to injure the delicate fibres—just the same whipped-cream suds you've always trusted your fine things to—gentle, magically cleansing. And Lux is such a relief to your hands after harsh laundry soap! Really, they don't mind Monday any more—Lux is so kind to them.

At first you think perhaps you are too extravagant but when you see what plentiful suds a little Lux makes, you resolve that you'll never do Monday's laundry any other way! Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Gone! those in-the-dishpan hands

—so red and uncomfortable

Your hands respond to Lux as to the finest toilet soap! Three times a day you plunge them into the water and Lux leaves them soft and white. Now dishwashing has lost its old terrors—for that tell-tale in-the-dishpan look is banished. Just one teaspoonful of Lux is enough!

IDENTIFIED AS SLAYER OF SERGT. WOODY

Cratty, 24, Named in Testimony of Policeman and Eyewitness.

Clay Cratty, 24 years old, of 1044 Spring avenue, whose trial for the murder last November of Police Sergeant Robert E. Woody, 57 years old, began today before a jury in Circuit Judge Itner's court, was identified as Sgt. Woody's slayer by two of the first witnesses to the crime.

Another witness, a policeman, identified Cratty as the man he arrested, while suffering from a slight bullet wound, a short distance from the scene of the shooting about one hour after it occurred.

The first witness to identify Cratty was Patrolman Henry H. Wiese of the Anselmi Street District, who was with Sgt. Woody when he was fatally wounded November 1, 1922, when he interrupted the "job" of four youthful high-women who had engaged in a carol of crime for two nights.

Wiese testified that he was in an automobile tour of a police precinct with Sgt. Woody, when they saw an automobile, which was being driven eastbound on Center avenue, near Harris avenue. They followed the machine to Fair avenue and Penrose street, where it stopped and three men alighted and attempted to hold up a man seated in an automobile at the corner, he related.

Wiese testified that Woody jumped from the police machine and was fired upon by a man on the running board of the automobile machine which was being held up. He identified Cratty as the man on the running board.

Exchanged About 12 Shots, Wiese testified further that he and Sgt. Woody exchanged about 12 shots with the four bandits, one of whom, he said, remained in the burning machine, which had been stolen earlier in the evening, until after the shooting began.

The other witness to identify Cratty as the man who fired the shot which killed Sgt. Woody was Emil Postel of 2021 Utan street.

Postel testified that he and a woman companion were returning to her home from a party when they were fired upon to stop to let a street car pass at Fair and Penrose avenues. While waiting, he testified, a man jumped on the running board of his machine, pressed a gun against his (Postel's) head, and ordered him to "stick 'em up" and "keep on it."

COURT FREES NEGRO WHO STOPPED WHIPPING

Mother of Child Exhibits Strap and Explains, but Judge Rules Against Her.

Will Ogden, negro, appeared in Police Court yesterday as the champion of somebody else's baby. Mrs. Willie Wayne, negress, appeared at the same time as the champion of the leather strap. The strap also appeared, as did Alberta Wayne, 4 years old, whom Ogden so nobly defended from the whistle, tooted by the engineer. He was buried yesterday afternoon in Oak Grove cemetery, St. Charles.

Coroner Dr. O. B. Hochheld an inquest Monday afternoon.

Rayn had papers of identification on his person showing that he was an electrical engineer and that while working at his trade a number of years ago, he suffered a shock which caused him to become deaf and dumb. Since recovering his physical health he has been hiking over the country. Letters found on his person include some from St. Louis, Little Rock, Ark., Portland, Ore., and other places. A letter by Dr. H. B. Faulstich, St. Louis Police surgeon, states that Rayn was deaf and dumb; that he had graft flesh at the base of his spine; a silver plate in his left side; a weak brain, but a normal and very active brain; and a delayed waiting possible word from relatives.

The first witness, Dr. O. F. Fischer, a Coroner's physician, testified that Sgt. Woody died two days after the shooting of bullet wound in the abdomen. Woody resided at 3527 Park avenue.

The other three men implicated with Cratty in the shooting have been arrested and are under indictment to be tried later. Circuit Attorney Silener, in his opening statement to the jury, announced that one of them, Nicholas Hare, 24, of 3495 Fair boulevard, would be used as a State witness.

Hare surrendered to Patrolman Wiese after the shooting and made a statement to police implicating Cratty and two others, Edward Silvi, 21, of 1313 Olive street, and Albert Gregory, 17, of 2616 North Tenth street. Because of his youth Gregory will be tried in Juvenile Court.

Paul Hall, a former schoolmate of Cratty, who is representing him at the trial, has not indicated what the defense will be.

By this time, the Court being quite convinced that Alberta would have been chastised had not complications set in in the backyard, concluded Mrs. Wayne's testimony and brought the gallant Ogden to the stand.

All this time Alberta, apparently unaware, or at least unconcerned, sat nearby calming munching caramels.

"Judge," said Ogden, "I wish to explain why I interfered. Your Honor, I feel that if it's an offense against the laws to whip horses and dogs, it certainly is an offense against the laws to whip children. When I first spied the difficulty, Mrs. Wayne was whipping Alberta.

"Judge, I'm not there in the day, so I don't know what happens in the day, but there isn't a night when she doesn't whip the child. So I interfered. I interfered by putting my arms around Mrs. Wayne and holding her. I never

54 TAKEN IN RAID ON CAFE

25 Women Among Those Arrested by Dry Agents at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., April 22.—Paul Mirabillo's cafe, said to be one of Detroit's gayest cabarets, early today felt the sting of the Federal Government's new policy of dealing with alleged prohibition law violators and their patrons, when Federal officers raided the place, arrested six employees and took into custody 48 customers.

The prisoners, 25 of them women, were taken to the United States District Attorney's office for questioning. Most of them admitted they bought beer and whisky at the cabaret. They were released after they gave their names and addresses and answered questions.

Paul Hall, a former schoolmate of Cratty, who is representing him at the trial, has not indicated what the defense will be.

Coroner Dr. O. B. Hochheld an inquest Monday afternoon.

Rayn had papers of identification on his person showing that he was an electrical engineer and that while working at his trade a number of years ago, he suffered a shock which caused him to become deaf and dumb. By this time, the Court being quite convinced that Alberta would have been chastised had not complications set in in the backyard, concluded Mrs. Wayne's testimony and brought the gallant Ogden to the stand.

All this time Alberta, apparently unaware, or at least unconcerned, sat nearby calming munching caramels.

"Judge," said Ogden, "I wish to explain why I interfered. Your Honor, I feel that if it's an offense against the laws to whip horses and dogs, it certainly is an offense against the laws to whip children. When I first spied the difficulty, Mrs. Wayne was whipping Alberta.

"Judge, I'm not there in the day, so I don't know what happens in the day, but there isn't a night when she doesn't whip the child. So I interfered. I interfered by putting my arms around Mrs. Wayne and holding her. I never

THREE DAMAGE SUITS ARE SETTLED AT BELLEVILLE

Mrs. Mary Simon, Henry Eifler and Thomas Z. Hubert Are Awarded Total of $8,000.

Three damage suits aggregating $25,000 were settled in the Belleville circuit court yesterday afternoon for $5,000.

The suit of Mrs. Mary Simon against Albert Angell of Belleville for $10,000 was settled for $3,000 and that of Henry Eifler, administrator of the estate of his wife Mrs. Mary Eifler-against Angell for $10,000 was settled for $2,000. The former woman was crippled and latter killed September 21, 1924 when Angell was taking them to Centralia, Ill., and his machine hit another automobile near Ashley.

The other suit settled was that of Thomas Z. Hubert, administrator of the estate of his daughter, Helen Louise Hubert, against John Laughlin, Sr. The girl was killed crossing the street, Lynch avenue and 25th street, East St. Louis, November 11, 1923. The car which killed her belonged to Laughlin, but was driven by Virgil Arcutt.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT TO TESTIFY IN THE 'PROTECTED BEER' CASE

Assistant U. S. Attorney-General Probably Will Be Asked to Detail Official Business.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant United States Attorney-General, who departed last night for Washington following a two-day visit to St. Louis, during which time she appeared before Federal Judge Faris to argue the Government's opposition to the granting of a change of venue on an application filed by Heber Nations in the "protected beer" case, will be summoned as a witness for the defense when the case is called for trial May 26, it was learned today.

Mrs. Willebrandt is in charge of the department for enforcement of the liquor and narcotic laws and probably will be asked to detail much official business if called to the stand. It is also likely the defense will summon Roy A. Haynes, Prohibition Commissioner, in view of the fact that an application for a subpoena duces tecum, which sought to have produced for the

USE LEMON IN MANICURING

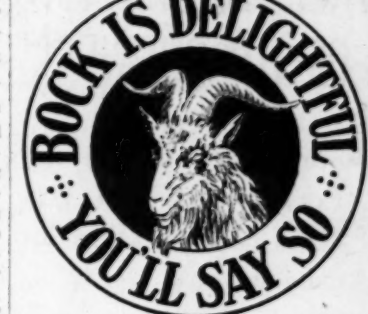

Thousands use this method to keep the fingers and the nails a healthy, pretty color while helping to remove the cuticle in the easiest way.

Lemon is Nature's own bleach, absolutely harmless and effective. It combats the free alkali that soaps contain, removes all grime and dirt, all skin-stains.

Use the California lemon to soften the cuticle at the start and again just before the final polish. Try it for ten days. See how much better your nails and fingers look—your entire hands, in fact—when you've trained them with the lemon.

Get a dozen California lemons now and keep them always handy in the house for this and other beauty uses.—Adv.

RENSHAW CREDITORS MAY GET 20 PER CENT

First Payment of $52,000 on Claims Announced by Trustee.

Creditors of the defunct real estate and insurance firm of John W. Renshaw & Sons may expect 20 cents on the dollar, Christopher P. Rowe, trustee, told 250 creditors in bankruptcy court in East St. Louis today in announcing the first payment, $52,000, 10 per cent on $520,000 common claims.

Another 10 per cent payment, he said, might be expected to follow sale next month of 53 pieces of property which are expected to bring about $50,000. Several notes, mortgages and ledger accounts may provide a surplus for payment of 56 other claims now tied up in court litigation.

Rowe said that checks for the first payment, to be mailed out today, will leave $19,000 on hand, enough to pay this 10 per cent on claims under litigation. Total claims amount to $710,000. Six of the preferred claims, which amounted to $150,000, are in court and the remainder have been satisfied. Common claims in court total $50,000.

Referee Burnside announced that a list of those receiving payments was on file in his office, and that he would pass on claims presented to him which had not been filed in the time allowed by law. The firm failed three years ago. The president, Henry T. Renshaw, pleaded guilty to a forgery charge and was sentenced to one to 14 years in prison.

"CITY MUST MAKE AGRICULTURE PART OF ITS BUSINESS"

opened it was found that they had few facts, beyond the fundamentals of biology and chemistry which could be taught. The problem was then set to work and dig up facts about farming that would be of value. The experiment stations were the result. Since that time these stations and their scientific organizations have made farming a definite science and this country now has the largest and most efficient experimental stations in the world.

"The average business man does not realize what would happen if the research carried on by these stations and by the Department of Agriculture, which is a sort of mother plant, should be suspended for five years. They are standardizing crops, developing superior breeds of livestock and by experimentation are determining the combinations of crops that will bring the quickest returns. They are even standardizing eggs by promoting the raising of breeds of hens which will lay the sort of eggs most desirable in the market.

Research Program.
"The stations have shown that a farmer can make his income increase along with the valuation of his land if he pays close attention to research and modern methods, but the stations and the Department find it up to them to keep ahead of the farmer and blaze the trail for him. They must find out what other countries are doing or can do and what he can do best with limited resources. With the $60,000 a year added to the present $30,000 appropriated for each station epoch-making results should be accomplished.

Aside from investigation of marketing conditions and business methods, the Secretary pointed out, the Purnell appropriation will also be used for study of the sociological phases of farming, for making home life more attractive and for promoting bureaus of home economics.

Use of Radio.
In connection with a statement that he is investigating possibilities of broadcasting agricultural information from the Department of Agriculture, he told of results accomplished by a radio broadcasting station set up at the Kansas State Agricultural College, of which he was president before his Cabinet appointment.

This station, he said, is now broadcasting lecture courses daily to 20,000 persons, and at noon, answers to some 200 or 300 questions are broadcast. These answers are given within 24 hours after they are received in the college's question box.

The research program adopted yesterday by the conference provides for special investigation of topics coming under four general groups.

The first group deals with the subjects under agricultural economics, with particular attention given to distribution and marketing of farm products and the problem of surpluses of products. The second is concerned with home economics, vitamin content of foods in relation to human nutrition and rural home management studies, being the two subdivisions. Rural sociology, with special attention to rural organizations and agencies essential to a permanent and efficient agriculture, comprises the third group, and the fourth is con-

An Extra Gasoline Tax of from 6 to 20 Cents Per Gallon

Your gasoline bills run into real money.

But have you ever stopped to figure how much of this is in the form of an incredibly high gasoline tax?

Let's see what happens when you leave the Concrete Highway and take to a gravel or a dirt road.

Conclusive tests have proved that a gallon of gasoline will carry you only two thirds as far on a gravel road as on a Concrete Road. On a dirt road a gallon of gasoline will carry you only half as far as on Concrete.

With gasoline at twenty cents a gallon, you would thus pay a gasoline tax of more than 6 cents per gallon on the gravel road and 20 cents a gallon on the dirt road.

These are figures you can't get away from. You can prove them yourself.

And remember that every time you travel on either a dirt or a gravel road you also increase wear and tear on tires and run up your general repair bills.

Why continue to pay these high taxes and get nothing in return but the discomfort and inconvenience of unpaved roads and streets?

Let your local officials know you want an adequate system of Concrete Roads and Streets. They are just as willing to build them as you are anxious to get them.

But they must have your support.

CARDINALS FACE REDS IN FIRST AT-HOME GAME OF SEASON

Haines or Rhem Will Pitch For Improved Local Team; Donohue Due for Hendricks

Chick Hafey Is Expected to Return to Outfield and Add to Rickeymen's Punch—Club Has Batting Average of .268 for the Season.

By Herman Wecke.

Following four successive victories on the road, gained as a result of good pitching and heavy batting, the Cardinals are ready today to make their at-home debut in the 1925 National League campaign. The Cincinnati Reds, at present in second place, will be the opponents for Branch Rickey's sluggers.

It will be the same Cincinnati club facing the Cardinals today that stopped the locals in three straight slashes at the start of the campaign. However, in those games the Cardinals did not have Haines. Since then they have clubbed aside all opposition, piling up 24 runs and 52 hits in four contests.

These 1925 Cardinals are apt to prove the surprise of the golden jubilee race of the Hendrix circuit. The team has an attack that "will give many a pitcher a sleepless night," according to the athletes themselves. The club can score runs. It's up to the pitchers on Rickey's staff to keep the opposition away from the plate. And the mound men have done this especially in the last two clashes, in which Leo Dickerman and Allan Sothern labored.

Plenty of Sluggers.

There is plenty of dynamite in the basis of the first seven batters in the Cardinal club. Ray Blades, lead-off man, is hitting .329 for the season. Holm next, while not in the select circle, is a good batter. The fellow Hornsby, Bottomley and Bell. They are a real menace to any pitcher—all being long distance clubbers. And Chick Hafey, who has not yet broken into the game, because of an injured finger, is another slugger who can pile them up. Hafey may be able to get into today's game with the Reds. Then there is Mike Gonzales, who is the team's leading hitter for the season with an average of .444.

Players on the Cardinal club are loud in their praises for Hafey. They regard him as a real comer, who with a year in last company will be one of the stars of the pastime. "He will come closer to filling the shoes of the late Austin Mcherry than any player we have had," is the way the Rickey toilers put it.

Indications are that the Rickeymen this season will have better pitching. In fact, never before has a Cardinal team been so well equipped with hurlers as right now. Two men—the veteran Sothern and Dickerman, obtained last summer from the Dodgers—have shown that they will be regulars. Sothern in the last 13 innings he has pitched has been scored upon only once, while he has given but six hits. That is tally was a four-base blow. Dickerman, after a poor start, came through with a shutout at Chicago.

Catching Is Improved. But there are others. Jess Haines is ready to go. So are "Pea Ridge" Day and Jimmy Ryan, right-handers. Then there are four left-handers, Walter Mails, Bill Sherdel, Bill Hallahan and Eddie Dyer. Johnny Stuart has not yet reached top condition.

The Cardinal catching is improved, what with Mike Gonzales and Walter Schmidt, both experienced receivers, as regulars and Eddie Vick to help out.

"Rickey this season has good infield reserves," says Conroy in getting better every day and will

Walker to Meet Greb Before He Takes On Shade

Welterweight Champion Will Thus Have Chance to Wear Double Fight Crown.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—By the settlement of his long standing dispute with the New York State Athletic Commission over the challenge of Dave Shade, Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, has cleared the way for acceptance of his second opportunity within the short span of six weeks to meet Greb. Walker, who has been in the ring for 13 years for the Rickeymen in the seven games played. That Lester Greb, recalled from Milwaukee, is a good man is shown by the fact that his war club has been responsible for eight fights.

Branch Rickey has not definitely decided on his outfield. Ray Blades is a good lead-off man and will without a doubt be kept in the game, unless his arm, not in the best of shape, gives out. Hafey, when he is able, will be a regular. But then comes the rub. Rickey has Mueller, who has been playing good ball, Holm, Douthett, Shinn, Smith, and Myers to choose from for the other berth. Myers will probably be out for several days because of a bad cold contracted in frigid Chicago.

Team Is Battling 268.

For the season, the Rickeymen have outbatted the opposition, 268 to 249. On the defense, the club has been better than its rivals—Cincinnati and Chicago—with a mark of .964 against .956.

In the opening game with the Reds today, Jess Haines or Phil Ryan will without a doubt do the pitching. Haines was hit on the arm by a batted ball in Chicago, but is again ready. Pea Donohue, who blanked the Cardinals in the season's opener, is due for Hendricks. Elmer Smith, former Cleveland slugger, will be in left field, as Zuzman pulled up with a charley horse in one of the early tilts.

There will be the regular opening-day feature, Mayor Miller will be on hand to raise the Golden Jubilee flag and will lead the march to the flag pole in center field. He also will pitch the first ball. There also will be a band and decorations.

In the opening game with the Reds today, Jess Haines or Phil Ryan will without a doubt do the pitching. Haines was hit on the arm by a batted ball in Chicago, but is again ready. Pea Donohue, who blanked the Cardinals in the season's opener, is due for Hendricks. Elmer Smith, former Cleveland slugger, will be in left field, as Zuzman pulled up with a charley horse in one of the early tilts.

There will be the regular opening-day feature, Mayor Miller will be on hand to raise the Golden Jubilee flag and will lead the march to the flag pole in center field. He also will pitch the first ball. There also will be a band and decorations.

WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPION WILL HAVE CHANCE TO WEAR DOUBLE FIGHT CROWN.

NEW YORK, April 22.—By the settlement of his long standing dispute with the New York State Athletic Commission over the challenge of Dave Shade, Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, has cleared the way for acceptance of his second opportunity within the short span of six weeks to meet Greb. Walker, who has been in the ring for 13 years for the Rickeymen in the seven games played. That Lester Greb, recalled from Milwaukee, is a good man is shown by the fact that his war club has been responsible for eight fights.

Branch Rickey has not definitely decided on his outfield. Ray Blades is a good lead-off man and will without a doubt be kept in the game, unless his arm, not in the best of shape, gives out. Hafey, when he is able, will be a regular. But then comes the rub. Rickey has Mueller, who has been playing good ball, Holm, Douthett, Shinn, Smith, and Myers to choose from for the other berth. Myers will probably be out for several days because of a bad cold contracted in frigid Chicago.

Team Is Battling 268.

For the season, the Rickeymen have outbatted the opposition, 268 to 249. On the defense, the club has been better than its rivals—Cincinnati and Chicago—with a mark of .964 against .956.

Lee O. Cotner Is Ready for Derby; Quatrain Sound

Son of Omar Khayyam Shows No Lameness After Half-Mile Workout.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 22.—The outstanding accomplishment of the Derby candidates, quartered at the local tracks, was the sterling work of Lee O. Cotner, which negated the mile and one-eighth of the present training season today at Churchill Downs.

Jockey Willie Frank had a stout hold of the colt all the way and at the end of the trial, clockers caught the time in the following fractions: 22.4-5; 47.4-5; 1:14; 1:41.2-5; 1:55.2-5.

Bourbon Boy, Cotner's running mate, was five lengths back of Lee O. Cotner, when he reached the mile and was fully ten lengths back when the mile and one-eighth was covered.

Trainer says Cotner will win. Jon Jones, trainer of Cotner was well pleased with the workout and feels that the colt will be the winner of the $50,000 added Kentucky Derby on May 16.

Needle Gun and Borderland, candidates for the classic from William Ziegler stable, covered a good six furlongs in 24.1-5, 49.1-5, 1:11, going easily.

Frederick Johnson supervised the training of Quatrain, which went a half mile in 32.3-5 easily, putting up a sound race. He has been suffering from a bruised right forefoot.

Al Woodman worked Boon Companion with S. M. Holman's Pyrocat for six furlongs which they covered in 1:22.2-5. Boon Companion went the mile in 1:58.2-5 alone.

Walter Hopkins induced Captain H. with a three-quarter sprint in 1:14.2-5. The colt covered the first five-eighths in 25.1-5, 49.2-5, 1:02.2-5 and was only breezing out to the three-quarter pole.

PIKEWAY PREP MEET ENTRY BLANKS OUT

More than 450 entry blanks for the Missouri Valley interscholastic track and field meet to be held at Francis Field May 8 have been sent out, according to an announcement of athletic authorities of Washington University.

Sisler Hits Safely In 7 Straight Games; Batting Average .394

GEORGE SISLER boosted his batting average again yesterday, getting two hits in four times at bat. The Browns manager has hit safely in every game thus far and has a total of 13 safeties in 33 times at bat, which gives him an average of .394.

Sisler's fine showing indicates that George knew what he was talking about this spring when he said his eyes were virtually as good as ever and that he expected to have a great year, both at the bat and in the field. His fielding average is not so good this year, but he has tried for plays that he would not attempt last year. Visiting writers all comment on the vast improvement Sisler has shown over his work of 1924.

Sande Returns to Saddle and Wins

Jockey, Given Great Reception at Havre de Grace, Rides Sarazen to Victory.

By The Associated Press.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 22.—Probably no jockey ever received a greater reception in the history of Maryland racing than Earl Sande did yesterday on his return to the saddle.

It was his first race since he was injured in a race at Saratoga last Summer and he signalled the event by winning easily with Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's great little gelding, Sarazen, the Newark Handicap, a six-furlong sprint for 3-year-olds and up. Sarazen ran the distance in 1:11 flat, one-fifth of a second better than the track record made twice by Billy Kelly, which carried 130 pounds. Sarazen took up 129 pounds. It was Sarazen's first race of the year.

When Sande came from the jockey's room he was cheered. The crowd as he passed to the post with Sarazen lasted five minutes. Again he was applauded as he rode Sarazen under the wire a winner. When he returned to the judge's stand he was presented with a floral horseshoe.

Levy Real Star As Soldan Wins

West-End High School Football Makes Sensational Catch and Hits Ball Hard.

The first exhibition of grid football in the City High School League this season was turned yesterday when Soldan and Levy, two of second place by 3-0-1 score.

Levy, Soldan right halfback, hit a home run, the first in the league this year, in the sixth inning, scoring Jones, who had previously singled. This broke the tie, which had existed from the fourth inning.

Although the hurlers were rather freely, in the fourth, after Soldan scored one run and the team loaded, Christiansen, ground ball, Grant, pitching for Yemassee, threw to Blumenkamp, hitting him out at home. Blumenkamp pegged to End to complete the play.

Again in the third with one out and with Long on third base, when Hemker dropped his line, Levy was undoubtedly the star of the play. He had three points on the sixth he came in fast, hit Pabst's line drive, off his shoulder with one hand.

Levy, West End basketball star, knocked out three straight trips to the plate. He had for the North Side, but it was enough control in the game, shown by the 13 men who were on the path by Soldan.

Once they called him the "Old Crank" —but that was before he lost his Corn

"New dispositions for old corns. . . . That isn't an impossible bargain. . . . Doctors know that a corn may plague a man's whole system —nagging his nerves, raging his temper—making him feel mean all over. . . . For a corn isn't just a local pain. It's a pain-station on the "main line" of the nervous system. Tiny nerves telegraph its twinges all over the circuit. . . . So Blue-jay offers this fair exchange—"New spirits for old corns." . . . Solid comfort comes the moment you put on the soft and downy plaster. Two days later, you remove the pad—and the corn comes out—gently uprooted by the little brown disc of magic medication within the pad.

Nebraskan Hurls A No-Hit Contest Against Missouri

Cornhuskers Batter Regan Soundly and Win From the Tigers 6 to 0.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 22.—B. Lang, star of the University of Nebraska pitching staff, who delivers his right hand offerings to his big brother, E. Lang, Cornhusker receiver, yesterday afternoon entered the no-hit hall of fame when he held the University of Missouri baseball team out of the base hit column for nine innings, and the Huskers won, 6 to 0. The two teams will meet here again

The only Tigers to reach first base did so by virtue of Lang's carelessness in hitting them or walking them—he issued passes to seven and hit one man—and twice he erred, two times in succession, and once Anthony stole second after walking. Otherwise the Missourians didn't get to look at second, and they only heard that there was a third sack on the diamond.

Nebraska rapped Regan for 19 hits and six runs.

WHY YOU SHOULD "Buy Real Estate Now"

St. Louis is starting on the eve of one of the greatest growths any city has experienced. Through its past conservative policy it has been fully prepared to meet the wonderful possibilities they have been neglecting, and are placing back in its rightful place as one of the four leading cities of this great nation. That the buying public may have an opportunity to take advantage of the natural profits that will accrue.

Wagner-Grant-Bell

Established the largest organization in the city to give all-around real estate service, and the properties so recommended are personally approved and sold on our trade mark, "Preferred Real Estate."

We are the largest builders of quality apartments and our properties are purchased by the shrewd buyer, and thereby many St. Louisans are "owning an estate." We suggest that you inspect our "Wagner-Grant-Bell" quality properties. There is over two hundred million dollars' worth of building under way in St. Louis. Don't miss today's "Buy Real Estate Now."

AUXVASSE CASHIER IS FOUND GUILTY

F. C. Stokes, Gets Two Years for Receiving Deposits While Bank Was Failing.

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 22.—Frank C. Stokes, former cashier of the defunct Bank of Auxvasse, charged with accepting deposits for that institution when it was in a failing condition, was found guilty and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by a jury in the Boone County Circuit Court here today.

The charge was one of eight for which Stokes was indicted. The case was brought here from Callaway County on a change of venue.

ROBBER RIDING BICYCLE GETS
$65 IN DRUG STORE HOLDUP

A neatly dressed young man left a blue bicycle with yellow wheels at the curb in front of a drug store at 4101 St. Louis avenue, at 8 p. m. yesterday, entered and held up the clerk, Edmund de Armour, and Everett Corwin, proprietors of 4101 St. Louis avenue. He ordered Everett, Retbell to open the cash register, and when Retbell hesitated, fired a shot into the floor. From that register he took $65 and two pennies. Retbell, at his command, had opened a second when he ran out, leaped on his bicycle and pedaled west on St. Louis avenue.

low-priced carriage

No other carriage has the features which the Lloyd Loom Carriage offers, for a price as low.
The graceful, bow-shaped body, with its smooth surface unmarred by seams, corners, or pieced short ends, is obtained by spiral weaving—an exclusive Lloyd feature. The many refinements of finish, the many exclusive Lloyd conveniences are made possible by the low production cost of spiral weaving.

Ask to see this handsome carriage, with the sturdy strength which only Lloyd steel-hearted upright stakes can give. Dealers will gladly show you its special features. If you don't know where

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

What Jimmy and Mrs. Skunk Were Getting

Oh, you who would in judgment sit,
Be sure that you to judge are fit.

WITHOUT full knowledge of the facts any one would have said that Jimmy and Mrs. Skunk were ruining Farmer Brown's lawn. It did look that way. All over one part of it they had dug little holes three or four inches deep. It was a good thing that Farmer Brown didn't jump to hasty conclusions. It was a good thing that he knew something about the habits of Jimmy Skunk. Otherwise he might have lost his temper and shot Jimmy and Mrs. Skunk. But he did nothing of the kind. Much as he disliked to see his lawn dug up, he wouldn't condemn those two busy little workers in the moonlight until he knew just what they were doing it for.

So the next morning Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's Boy went out to carefully examine the ground around the little holes where the Skunks had been at work. Almost at once Farmer Brown's Boy found a broken earthy-looking little shell and handed it to Farmer Brown. The latter knew what it was at once. "It is the broken case of the pupa of the June Beetle," said he. "I suspected as much. Probably this whole lawn of ours is full of white grubs, which you know in time would turn into June or May Beetles, as they are called. Those white grubs live in the ground three years before coming out as beetles, and they live on the roots of grass. Jimmy and Mrs. Skunk are very fond of them, and they have been digging them up. They certainly have made a bad-looking place where they have been at work, but in time it would have looked far worse but for them. Those grubs would have killed the grass by eating the roots."

"How do you suppose Jimmy Skunk knows where there is a grub?" asked Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Smells it, I guess," replied Farmer Brown. "If he doesn't, he must hear it at work on the roots. But the grubs that were in those cases were not working, so it looks to me as if he must locate them by smell. Anyway, he finds them and that is all that concerns us. I was a bit worried about the chickens when I found that that Skunk had made a home under the hen house, but I guess that she isn't going to touch the chickens and I'm glad she is living that near, because it is right handy to this lawn."

Farmer Brown's Boy smiled. "Yet a lot of people think Jimmy Skunk is good only for his fur," said he.

"You mean a lot of people don't think at all," replied Farmer Brown. "I've known for a long time that Jimmy Skunk is a useful citizen, but never realized it quite so fully as I do now. Some insect pests man can successfully fight, but these white grubs working underground can't be reached without digging up the sod and turning it over, and then not all the grubs would be found. Jimmy Skunk comes along and does the job neatly and quickly. He does no unnecessary digging. He and Mrs. Skunk are saving this lawn of ours when it would have been impossible for us to save it. All we have to do is to go around after them and fill in these little holes and roll the ground. In a short time no one will ever know that any digging has been going on here. Jimmy and Mrs. Skunk are welcome as neighbors so far as I am concerned. But let us hope that they have no misunderstandings with other folk."

"Here is hoping," chuckled Farmer Brown's Boy.

Under the Swiss Federal Factory Act any woman who has household responsibilities may request a Saturday half-holiday, and her employer must grant the request.

Women now compose nearly 7 per cent of the total membership of the German Reichstag.

Brighter Gift.
Paint the gift frames carefully with white of egg, using a camel's hair brush. It will renovate them beautifully.

Have Them Dyed.
When the colored satin slippers become smudged with polish from men's shoes during the dance and are generally hopeless, take them back to the shop where they were purchased and have them dyed a darker shade to match some other less delicate frock.

Divided Into Compartments.
One woman who has a closet in her cellar just for preserves has the shelves divided into compartments with a label over each little section. In this way she is saved the trouble and time of labeling.

A Treat for Every Husband!

Whether it's sirloin, round, porterhouse or T-bone, where's there a man who doesn't heartily relish a tender, well-cooked steak? Most men can't get too much of it!

If you fry the steak, be sure to use real butter—Sugar Creek Butter. Nothing else will give such a savoriness, such a delightful flavor. Chefs in most large hotels never fry steak in anything but real butter.

If you broil your steak, be sure to give it the finishing touch—3 or 4 generous daubs of Sugar Creek, the "Real Cream Butter," just before serving.

Eighteen million pounds of Sugar Creek Butter were used and enjoyed last year. If you haven't tried it yet, there's a real treat in store for you. Look for the attractive blue carton with the yellow maple leaf.

Real Cream Butter!

WHEELER DEFENDS
PLEA FOR CLIENT
IN OIL LAND CASE

Testifies He Discussed the Lincoln Permit With Department as a Senator and
Not as Attorney.

TRIAL HALTED TO AWAIT WITNESS

In Denying Meeting Hayes
in New York, Senator
Says Secretary Signed
Telegram About Booth.

By the Associated Press.
GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 22.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler again took the witness stand in his trial here today to complete the story of his connection with Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator, for whom he is accused of illegally appearing before the Department of the Interior in prosecution of oil land permits.

District Attorney John L. Slattery, at the outset questioned the Senator about his trip to Europe in 1923. Wheeler said he went because he thought a first hand study of foreign relations would aid him in the Senate.

After a dozen questions along this line, the prosecutor switched to Wheeler's testimony about a dinner he attended in New York March 16, 1923, the night he said he met Wheeler in New York the night of March 16 and that Wheeler asked him to appear in his place before the Department of the Interior.

Wheeler denied on the witness stand yesterday that he met Hayes in New York, and accounted for the time spent in New York by testifying that he went shopping and attended a dinner and an opera in the evening.

"Who was at this dinner?" asked the District Attorney.

"Well, there were Col. E. M. House, Mrs. House, a Mrs. Griswold, Mr. J. Borden Harriman and a Col. Stone. Col. Stone had just returned from an assignment in the A. E. F., and was the guest of honor."

Advised Booth Be Consulted.

Re-direct examination, Wheeler said he told Campbell and H. J. Coleman of the Standard Oil Co. of California, that they ought to take up the L. E. Lincoln permit with Edwin S. Booth, then a solicitor for the Interior Department. Clifford Heath, Great Falls attorney, testified that Wheeler told him he was not making any appearance before the department for Campbell because of his election to the Senate.

The trial was halted temporarily when the defense ran out of witnesses, and unwillingness on the part of the Government to agree to a stipulation on remaining evidence prevented the Montana Senator's counsel for resting his case.

Wheeler Discusses His Employment to Represent Oil Company.

Senator Wheeler was on the stand nearly four hours yesterday. The witness directly denied Hayes' testimony when he was called to the stand by his chief of counsel, Senator Walsh.

"I never met George B. Hayes in New York," he said emphatically. "I never heard of him until he appeared before the Daugherty investigating committee in Washington, in March, 1924."

Wheeler declared he was introduced to Hayes in Washington by A. R. Meizer, an attorney, attached to the Daugherty committee. Meizer previously testified to the meeting of the two and said at that time neither Hayes nor Wheeler showed any indication of ever having met before.

"I questioned Hayes sharply in regard to the case in which he was appearing there," said Wheeler. "But I never saw the man before that. Certainly I never saw him in New York."

Wheeler asked Wheeler to account for the time he spent in New York March 16, 1923, just before he sailed for Europe. He testified that Mrs. Wheeler arrived there early that morning and he spent the entire day shopping with her. From 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 7 o'clock, he and Mrs. Wheeler were in their room at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, he declared, preparing for dinner. He said they dined with Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Col. E. M. House and others, and later attended an opera.

Hayes previously testified he talked to Wheeler in the lobby of the hotel between the hours of 4 and 1 the afternoon of March 16. The courtroom was packed while Wheeler testified. He was interrupted but little by counsel, and was permitted to present his testimony.
